IGOE TELLS WHY HE TRIED TO FREE MAX GREENBERG

Declares U. S. Pardon Attorney Had Recommended Release and He Was Convinced of Innocence.

7 MONTHS OF 5-YEAR SENTENCE SERVED

Eganite, Convicted of Theft of Car Shipments, Was Arrested 31 Times Here in Eight Years.

William L. Igoe, Democratic candidate for Mayor, this afternoon issued a statement defending and explaining his efforts made while in Congress to obtain a pardon for Max Greenberg, convicted of freight car robbery, on the ground of innocence. Igoe's statement was brought out by an earlier publication in the St. Louis Star today, which said among other things:

"William L. Igoe, Democratic candidate for Mayor of St. Louis, used his influence while serving as a member of Congress from the Eleventh St. Louis District to obtain a presidential pardon for Max Greenberg, notorious freight pirate, firebug and former 'ace' of the Egan gang of gunmen and criminals."

Igoe's Statement.

The text of Igoe's statement follows:

"In 1919, Max Greenberg applied to President Wilson for a pardon. He was then a resident of my district. After James A.
Finch, Pardon Attorney appointed by President Roosevelt, and still in office, had recommended a pardon for Greenberg, I wrote a letter to President Wilson requesting his favorable action because I was convinced of Greenberg's innocence of the offense charged against him."

"Charles Karch, United States District Attorney, who prosecuted Greenberg, requested and obtained a special investigation by the Department of Justice because of his doubt of Greenberg's guilt. The findings of this investigation, together with the court record of the case, were before Pardon Attorney Finch when he made his recommendation to President Wilson for a full and immediate pardon."

"The President declined to grant the pardon. That was my sole connection with the Greenberg case."

"Subsequently the President, acting upon a later petition, commuted Greenberg's sentence."

"Senator James A. Reed, it will be recalled, was publicly charged during his last campaign with having obtained this pardon. His answer was that he did help to secure the pardon because he was convinced of the man's innocence."

"I repeat here what I said at the beginning of my candidacy, namely, that I welcome any publication of any public, professional or private nature."

Freed on Commutation.
Max Greenberg, Ben Milner, Edward Powers and William Henfling were released from Leavenworth prison in September, 1920, on a commutation of sentence granted by President Wilson, as was published at that time.

"They were found guilty in Federal Court at Danville, Ill., Sept. 17, 1917, of theft for interstate shipments, and were sentenced to five years imprisonment. They were released from Leavenworth at that time but were released on appeal bond a month later, and remained free until March 23, 1920, when the Court of Appeals sustained their conviction. They were then taken back to prison."

Served Less Than 7 Months.
They served less than seven months of their sentence.

In the account of the President's action on the case, published in the Post-Dispatch September 18, 1920, it was stated that Greenberg and the others were represented, and their effort to gain their freedom, by James E. Carroll, former United States District Attorney of St. Louis, and law partner of Congressman Igoe.

At the time of their conviction by the Federal Court, Greenberg and Milner were awaiting trial in St. Louis on charges of attempted third-degree arson. They were accused of having been "torches" in the alleged arson conspiracy and to have been implicated in the attempt to burn the plant of the Christian Reunion works, 121 Dock street, on Page 2, Column 8.

Idea He Got in Lumber Camp Nets $1,000,000

John Spencer, When Boy, Watched Door of Boiler and Now Sells a Device to Control Electrical Heat.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, April 2.—The development of a scientific principle, which he learned while tending a lumber camp boiler during his boy-hood, has just made John A. Spencer, of Revere, Mass., a millionaire.
Spencer has sold to the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co. a device known as the Spencer disc thermostat. For it, he received $1,000,000.

As a lad Spencer noticed that the boiler he tended was equipped with a clean-out door of peculiar properties. Whenever the furnace was hot, the door would bulge outwards. When the fire cooled there was a loud click and the door would turn inward. Invariably it changed its shape from convex to concave, or back again, as the fire within rose and fell.

He never forgot the strange little door. When he grew to manhood he acquired a knowledge of mechanical principles, and devoted a period to determining just what made that furnace door act as it did. When he had concluded his experiments he had invented the Spencer disc thermostat.

The device consists of a disc of two dissimilar metals, welded together. When cool the disc is convex. When heated to a certain predetermined temperature it snaps, with a loud click, into a concave shape.
This queer action can be used to open and close electric currents. An electric iron in which it is used, for example, will heat up to the most efficient temperature and then, with a sharp click, the current will be automatically cut off. The iron will start to cool, but before it gets too cool, the disc will snap again, turning the current on.
By varying the characteristics of the metals, it can be made to act within any desired temperature range, from below zero to 700 degrees Fahrenheit.
It will be used in coffee urns, water heaters and similar apparatus warmed by electricity. They can be boiled dry without damage, for as soon as the temperature begins to rise to the danger point, the thermostat will cut off the current.
It is also planned to use the thermostat on motors, generators and other electrical machines to prevent overheating.

AUTO FIRM OFFICIALS MUST GO TO PRISON

Mandates for George L. Moore and Three Others to Appear in East St. Louis April 20.

Mandates ordering the imprisonment of Leavenworth Penitentiary for three years of four officers of the defunct Moore Motor Vehicle Co. of Danville, Ill., who were convicted in East St. Louis Federal Court in 1921, were received today in East St. Louis.

The mandates were issued by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals and follow the refusal of the United States Supreme Court to review the evidence. They command that the four men appear in Federal Court at East St. Louis, April 20, to pay fines against them, and go immediately to Leavenworth.

The four men were convicted in June, 1921, of using the mails to defraud in the sale of stock of the company. In addition to the three-year sentence, George L. Moore of Los Angeles, former president of the company, and Edward K. Gallagher of Minneapolis, then president, were fined $4500 each and J. W. Patterson of Chicago, and Albert C. Leonard of Denver, stock salesmen, were fined $2500.

The case was appealed to the Circuit Court of Appeals, the original decision was confirmed in January, 1924, and later a rehearing was denied.

By the Associated Press.
NEW LONDON, Conn., April 2.— Karl Gustafson, coast guard sailor, was shot and mortally wounded today at the wheel of one of the patrol boats while in pursuit of a liquor runner off the mouth of the Thames River.

The chase was abandoned when Gustafson fell. He died in a hospi-

Taft III is named for the Chief Justice.

Good Roads Ahead

The Missouri and Illinois program for an adequate system of cross-state paved roads means something to every St. Louisian. It means that you can drive miles and miles with ease and comfort.
It means that the wonderful Ozark country will be open to you; that the Great Lakes, the Rockies, the Northwest and the Pacific are closer.
If you have no automobile and a new car seems afar, you can get a good used car quickly and easily—by reading the classified "Automobiles" column in the Post-Dispatch.
You will find the largest list of good machines—large

COMPENSATION BILL READY FOR GOV. BAKER

House Votes to Concur in Eight Senate Amendments to Workmen's Act.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, April 2.— The House today concurred in eight amendments by the Senate to the workmen's compensation bill already passed by the House and Senate. The bill now goes to the Governor. The vote concurred in the Senate amendments was 111 to 0. Few changes were made by the Senate in the original bill as passed by the House, although a three-day fight was made in the upper House by opponents of the bill, in an effort to riddle the measure.

Amendments adopted do not greatly change the form of the bill. One amendment cut from seven to three days the time within which compensation would become operative after an injury.
Another amended the burden of proof on the employer when it is charged an employee intentionally inflicted an injury on himself.
Other amendments reduced the proposed salaries of the three members of the commission to administer the act from $6500 a year to $4500 and required that one member of the commission be a lawyer. The other two will be representatives of labor and the employers.

After the House had concurred in the Senate amendments, and before voting on passage of the bill as amended, Representative E. G.
Davidson of St. Louis launched a bitter attack on the bill charging labor did not want it. He produced a sheet of telegrams purported to show that labor unions, which were working in the bill, most identical language. The vote for final passage of the bill as amended was 103 to 6. The vote of the St. Louis delegation on the bill was as follows: Ayes—Beedle, Chouteau, Ferris, Hibel, Moberg, Nettle, Papke, Sanford, Schneider, Stephens.

No—Davidson. Absent or not voting: Forster, Francis, Goodenough, Moore, Riedinger, Spellman, Parker, Huber.

SARGENT EAGER FOR FISHING
Attorney-General Inquires About Sport Near Washington.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 2.—Attorney-General Sargent is growing restive under the slow coming of warm weather—fishing weather.

When he received the newspaper correspondents at his regular conference today he hurriedly disposed of the questions directed at him and then began asking questions himself. He sought to learn from the correspondents where about Washington the best fishing spots were and then concluded the conference with several choice fishing stories, gathered from experiences around Lake Champlain.

Large Cracks in Earth.
By the Associated Press.
BROOKHAVEN, Miss., April 2.— Thousands of curious cracks are visiting the vicinity of Union Church, a village west of here, where the earth is cracking and sinking in an area a quarter of a mile long and about 40 feet wide.
Parts of the strip have sunk one to 15 feet. The dropping of the earth continues at an estimated rate of a foot a day.

'LIES, GANGSTERS, THUGS, THIEVES,' SHOUTS MILLER

Nominee Excoriates All His Opponents and Levels Severest Denunciation Against Post-Dispatch.

"EVEN CLERGYMEN HAVE BEEN DUPED"

Says Some of Them Are Shouting From Housetops to Put Gangsters in City Hall.

Victor J. Miller, Republican nominee for Mayor, devoted himself last night to an exhortation of all opposed to him and leveled his severest denunciation at this Post-Dispatch. He charged this newspaper with printing "a pack of lies" about him and said its policy was controlled by "gangsters, thugs and thieves."

His prepared speech of law enforcement was a mere incident in his all-inclusive denunciation of those who oppose his candidacy.
In the course of one of his four addresses, he declared, he regretted to see that "even some members of the clergy had been hoodwinked to such an extent that they are shouting from the house tops to put the gangsters in the City Hall."

Miller began his evening at an Eight Ward meeting at the Southland Market, Eighth and Carroll streets. He plunged immediately into a storm of vituperation against the Post-Dispatch as the object of his attack. He did not mention any specific charges this newspaper had made, but sweeping declared them all to be falsehoods and "last-minute stuff."

Learn Something Each Day.
"Each day I live I learn something," Miller said. "I have concluded that almost nothing is impossible. The gangsters, thieves and crooks have gotten control of a metropolitan newspaper. There are three ways they might have done it; maybe it was one of the three and maybe it was all of them. Those ways are: First, if the ideas and policies of the Post-Dispatch harmonize with the ideas of the thieves and crooks; second, if they have been intimidated by gangsters; and third, the gangsters might get control through the use of money."

"I don't know which way it was done but there is this metropolitan newspaper supporting the cause of thieves and gangsters. The opposition of the Post-Dispatch is one of the best recommendations I have.
"Vandals have been tearing down my signs, threatening people who support me and in general carrying on a despicable campaign. My opponent knows of this through the press. He has not denounced it.
When a man does not come out and say he is against such a thing, I charge him with soliciting that kind of action. I charge him with porters did a thing like that, I would denounce him and tell him I did not need that kind of support."

A Whispering Campaign.
"They come down into South St.
Louis and whisper about me. They say: 'Look out for that fellow Vic Miller. He won't let you off for free on Sunday and if you give him any encouragement, he'll turn out the lights and close the churches on Sunday.'"

"Don't be taken by any talk like that. When I was President of the Police Board I had 1500 men in uniform with guns and clubs under my control and most of them would do anything I asked. I defy the thugs, gangsters and the Post-Dispatch to show one respectable home that was invaded at my order. The truth of the matter is that the Post-Dispatch and the thugs do not know the difference between a home and a dive. The police did raid dives at my direction and sometimes I went with them. I might say that those dives didn't look the same when we came out as they did when we went in."

Miller shifted to his past record in office as an evidence of his "sincere desire to serve" and said he had never given a thought to the consequences to himself in any of his official acts which alter the histories of babies.

DANCING GIRL CASE MENACES BRITISH RULE IN INDIA

Romance of Mumtaz Begum and Murder of Rival of Maharajah Story of Struggle for "Ijlat."

SWARAJ EXECUTIVE
ASSASSIN'S COUNSEL

Religious as Well as a Political Crisis Feared When Nine Are Tried for Killing of Baula.

The New York World and Post-Dispatch present today the first comprehensive story of the romance of Mumtaz Begum and the Maharajah Hill murder in Bombay, which threatens to endanger the British Empire in India.

This Arabian Nights tale of the struggle of the Maharajah of Indore and a rich Bombay merchant over a base-born dancing girl, on whom both lavished great wealth, is one that has been learned despite the caution of British officials; for behind it lurks possibly the most religious and political struggles in India.

The story of the flight of the uncrowned queen of Indore from the Oriental splendor of her palace to palace her tradesman lover built for her is one of high adventure. But in it she was but the football in a contest of pride between a great aristocrat and a great commoner, which caused the murder of the merchant and the mutilation of Mumtaz.

By John L. BALDERSTON.
London Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

LONDON, April 2.—"Ijlat" in Indian means honor, prestige and something more than both these English words.

When the American, Gordon Selfridge, attained wealth by founding and making successful London's greatest department store, he rented the most imposing, the most hallowed-by-tradition residence of English aristocracy—Lansdowne House, and there he entertained on a scale no Duke or Marquis in these days can afford to emulate.

If a nobleman should murder Selfridge in Piccadilly for presuming to live in Lansdowne House, it would be a crime of the first rank.
In the East rivalry between the pretensions of the aristocracies of trade and blood exhibits more violent symptoms than in the West; and on Malabar Hill in Bombay at dusk, Jan. 12, little Mumtaz Begum, ignorant of the tragedy about to befall her, received an ugly knife wound in her scalp.

Football in Game of "Ijlat." Mumtaz was the football in a game of "Ijlat" between one of India's greatest rulers and one of its wealthiest captains of industry.

Nobody in India who knows the history of this most extraordinary murder story of the century sur-gives that love or passion motivated it.

Yale and Harvard gridiron warriors struggle for the ball, but it is not the ball itself they care about.
It is "Ijlat."

The all-Indore team of the Maharajah Tukoji Rao Holkar, Grand Knight of the Cross, most exalted order of the Star of India, Knight Grand Commander of the most important Order of the Indian Empire, was to hold the ball; but highpoliced by the Maharajah's military and police forces stood dead the presumptuous multimillionaire Abdul Kadir Baula. Baula thus lost his struggle for "Ijlat," but the scandal has not entirely won.
Mumtaz was not spirited, according to plan, in the red murder car across the Indore frontier, there to disappear forever—to perish rapidly or otherwise as the feelings of her captors might dictate.

She remained to give evidence in preliminary Bombay hearings and to be the star witness in the approaching murder trial, which may rank with the Dreyfus case as one of the diamond necklaces as one of the most extraordinary affairs in the history of India.

Asserts Baby Was Murdered.

for my wife and two children," pleaded the Archduke Leopold when arraigned for speeding, his motor cycle last night and knocking a man down.

The archduke explained that he was employed nightly to rush motion picture films from one theater to another, and had no time to lose.

The victim of his motor cycle, said in court: "I don't want any compensation. The defendant is a victim of hard luck." The magisings.

SEVEN U. S. AGENTS INDICTED

Deputy Revenue Collectors Accused of Extorting "Hush Money."

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Federal grand jury indictments were returned today against seven Deputy Collectors of Internal Revenue, on charges that they extorted "hush" money from business men of West Chester and Bronx counties.

The specific charge was that the deputies solicited and accepted bribe from citizens under threat of obtaining against their victims income tax assessments, fines and criminal prosecution. The indictments named Charles H. Green, Albert O. Neilson, William Snowden, Paul Steinhil, Henry Mayer, David Benjamin and Charles Tre-monti. Green, previously indicted with Matthew J. Cannon, another deputy collector of the district, pleaded guilty and awaits sentence.

KING OF ITALY GIVES WAR VETERAN MONEY FOR A HOME

Turns Over 20,000 Lire on Hearing Story of Paralyzed Soldier.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, April 2.—Giovanni Pirrelli, 31 years old, war veteran, partially paralyzed, unable to speak perfectly and in tatters today approached the guard of the Royal Palace, saying: "I want to see King Victor Emmanuel, for whom I fought and died."

When informed of the man at the gates, the King sent for him.
In the presence of his monarch, Pirrelli was too nervous to stand.
So the King asked the veteran to sit beside him while his story of misfortune was told.

"What can I do for you?" finally asked the King.
At length, Pirrelli, who had been evicted from his house, said his life cream was a cottage of his own.
But it would cost 10,000 lire.

King Victor Emmanuel immediately ordered 20,000 lire given to the veteran and, as Pirrelli departed, the monarch took 500 lire from his pocket, saying: "Buy food with this."

MOVIE MAN HELD FOR PERJURY IN GISH SUIT

Judge Dismisses Bill to Compel Actress to Test Only for His Company.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 2.—Charles H. Duell, head of a motion picture company, was held for grand jury action on a charge of perjury today after Federal Judge Mack had dismissed the bill of complaint filed by Duell in his suit to compel Lillian Gish, screen star, to compel pictures only for his company.

"Never in 22 years of judicial experience," said Judge Mack, "have I had before me a case of such a flagrant breach of trust as has been shown in this. With the possible exception of one case, I have heard no other case where there was more perjury in connection with both the affidavits for preliminary injunction and the testimony offered the court."

ROBBERY THEORY IN PASSWELL MURDER

Former St. Louisan, Slain in New York, Was Reputed Wine Dealer and Gambler.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, April 3.—Three theories have been advanced in the case of Mack Passwell, former St. Louis clothes dealer, reputed dealer in sacramental wines and alleged gambler, found murdered yesterday morning.

Detectives tried to learn where he had gone after depositing $8000 to his $50,000 account in the East River Savings Bank, Tuesday afternoon. It was pointed out that his body was found the day following a Jewish holiday, when his murderers might readily believe him to possess large sums of money.

Detectives say Passwell, whose name was changed from Max Passawitz, was a court order, left his brother-in-law's cloak and suit trade in St. Louis six years ago and made large sums in gambling in Cleveland. Later his operations are said to have assumed such proportions that he was the Ohio city's top residence. He left Chicago several months ago and came to New York, establishing a residence at the Great Northern Hotel. He remained there a short time and moved to the New York City. He said he had come to New York City, where he came a familiar figure in Broadway night life.

A third theory, little credited by detectives, was that he may have been done to death by rival Hugar dealers. When the janitor found him at 7:15 a. m. at 1406 Park avenue, he was lying in the cement walk between his car and the sidewalk and his feet on the steps leading from Park avenue. A brick was clutched in his hand. His watch and chain and some jewelry were intact but only a few pennies in his pocket. The autopsy showed that he had been shot in the jaw and the neck and probably about 2 o'clock in the morning.

Mr. J. J. Connelley, 5223 Maple avenue, St. Louis, the son of was notified of her brother's death.

FIVE YEARS FOR COMPANION OF MAN SLAIN IN HOLDUP

Stephen H. Coleman, Kansas City of Complicity in Attempted Robbery of Kroger Store.

Stephen H. Coleman, 22 years old, of 1021 North Compton avenue, was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary by Circuit Judge Wurdeman at Clayton to-day upon his plea of guilty of attempted robbery. Coleman was arrested Saturday night a few minutes after his companion, James Burris, was killed by Deputy Constable Lawrence Sheller while holding up a Kroger store at 5419 Suburban avenue. Coleman had been seen with Burris driving past the store in a Chrysler touring car shortly before the holdup attempt and was later apprehended eight Until today he had clung to his first story that he knew nothing of the robbery and was waiting for Burris to return with two girls who were to have gone riding with them.

CHARGE BY RONEY THREATENS TOLL BRIDGE MEASURE

Greater Scandal Than the Baking Powder Episode if It Passes, Declares Jasper County Man.

ACTION ON SENATE CHANGES DELAYED

Legislators Said to Have Been Entertained by Lobbyists Urging Purchase by State.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 2.—Convening of the House was delayed long past the usual time today, while supporters of the bill providing for State purchase of three toll bridges across the Missouri River endeavored to round up absent members. The bill was threatened with defeat yesterday when Representative Roney of Jasper County asserted its passage would be followed by a greater scandal than the baking powder scandal of several years ago. The bridges involved are at Kansas City, Jefferson City and St. Charles. Roney made this charge, when the bill, already passed by the House, came back for concurrence in Senate amendments which were designed to correct several apparent "jokers" in the original bill. As was related in the Post-Dispatch, the bill originally was up for passage in the House, but it was passed by a safe majority.

Renewed about noon sponsors of the bridge bill had it put on the informal calendar, saying it probably would be called up again late today.

As has been told, the bill, as passed by the House, contained several sections that apparently would have permitted a raid on the State primary road fund, placed no limit on the amount the State could spend for the bridges, authorized the State Highway Commission to assume whatever outstanding indebtedness there was against the bridges and was so worded that purchase of the bridges was believed to be mandatory.

However, the powerful lobby that is here working for the bill asserted, and proponents of the measure declared in the House, that the purchase would be discretionary, and that the State would be limited to expenditures of $500,000 of State money for each bridge. Senators who scrutinized the bill closely thought otherwise and so amended it that most of the doubtful passages were eliminated.

The lobby that has been working for the bill has been almost as active as the powerful lobbies that were here on both sides of the workmen's compensation bill. Among the bridge lobbyists is E. L. (Liv) Morse of Excelsior Springs, old guard Republican and one of the distributors of the Lowden fund in Missouri in 1920.

A series of dinners have been given members of the Legislature by lobbyists interested in the bill, and other expensive entertainments reported. Rumors are also current concerning almost unlimited quantities of pre-Volstead beverages and the raising of considerable sums for the conducting of the bridge lobby.

Roney's charges yesterday produced a greater storm than when he first intimated a scandal at the time the measure was first passed by the House. Other representatives asked Roney to name the men who figured in the so-called "baking powder bill" episode in the Legislature years ago, but he declined.

This turn of events has caused dissension among the bridge lobbyists, some of whom are opposed to Morse being here. "If the lobbyists can't agree, how can a member of the Legislature not on the inside know what to do," remarked one House member today.

Representatives of owners of the St. Charles bridge have been here attempting to have that bridge excluded from terms of the bill. Jacob L. Babler of St. Louis, former Republican National Committeeman, is said to have conferred with Morse in an effort to get the St. Charles bridge excluded. Babler and Morse have been close political friends.

Recent rumors here that Murray Carleton, Democrat, of St. Louis, would resign as a member of the State Highway Commission, which have been denied by Carleton, caused some discussion at the bridge dinners of a successor to Carleton. One boom started was for the appointment of James Touchin, Democrat, of Jefferson City, former prison contract manufacturer and once a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor. Touchin, a local banker, has been lobbying for passage of the bridge bill.

WOMAN DOCTOR'S LICENSE REVOKED BY HEALTH BOARD

Dr. Anna Golstein Found to Have Made False Statements in Obtaining Her Medical Credentials.

The medical licenses of Dr. Anna Golstein of 2012 Waterman avenue and Dr. Thomas R. Moore of Kirkwood were revoked by the State Board of Health in executive session at the Jefferson Hotel, Dr. James Stewart, secretary, announced today.

The charges of fraudulent obtaining of licenses made against Dr. John Buschman, of 3307 California avenue, and Dr. Walter Lyle Kelley of Affton, was dismissed today by the board.

Dr. Buschman was exonerated after the taking of testimony today in which witnesses said he had been a student at the college in 1914 and 1915 as stated, and Dr. Kelley's dismissal came as a result of his hearing two weeks ago, when he satisfied the board with his own testimony that he had actually received the training set forth in his application.

After completion of Dr. Buschman's case, the board proceeded with the case of Dr. Adolph Krall. Dr. Krall was the first of the 60 physicians cited for license revocation to be cleared. Licenses of four have been revoked. Two others of those cited voluntarily turned in their licenses. The first license revoked in the series of hearings, now going on in the Health Department quarters in the Municipal Courts building, was that of Dr. Waldo Briggs, head of the College of Physicians and Surgeons. That revocation was made pending reorganization of the school to reputable standards.

Complaint against Dr. Golstein charged that her preparation for practicing medicine when she obtained her license was one year's attendance at the College of Physicians and Surgeons; that she had bought evidence of high school credits and in her application falsely showed completion of the four years' course at the medical school and stated she was born in St. Louis, when she was born in Russia. A classmate at the medical school testified that she entered the school in 1920.

Witnesses against Dr. Moore, who was charged with having falsified credits from a high school at Chapman, Kan., were heard March 26. Upon resumption of hearings this week his attorney filed a diploma in his name from the high school and asked dismissal upon grounds that the charges had not been substantiated.

Testimony, begun yesterday in the case of Dr. Buschman, was completed today with the introduction of two class photographs of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, one taken in 1915 and another in 1918, showing him in the group. Dr. Joseph C. Schaeffer, of 4422 Washington boulevard, previously had testified that he was a lecturer at the college in 1914 and 1915 and that Buschman was a student there during those years. Dr. Buschman also took the stand and exhibited numerous note books used by him in classes during the period in question.

In support of charges, Dr. Buschman had not attended the college for four years previous to 1918, as he had stated in his application, catalogues for three years prior to 1917 were introduced at the hearings yesterday. Dr. Buschman's name did not appear in any of these.

Yesterday's testimony also included that by Dr. Briggs, and Dr. P. H. Hartmann, a lecturer at the institution, who were put on the stand in defense of Dr. Buschman. Dr. Briggs testified that Dr. Buschman attended his school to a large extent and Dr. Hartmann said he remembered Dr. Buschman as a member of the junior and senior classes.

ATTACK IS MADE ON BUREAUCRACY

Sumners of Texas Deplores Tendency to Place Important Work Solely in Hands of Committee.

Six Congressmen, comprising the Subjudiciary Committee investigating the official conduct of Federal Judge English, paid tribute to St. Louis, its people, parks, industries and progressiveness in brief addresses before the Chamber of Commerce at luncheon yesterday.

The speakers were Congressman William D. Boies of Iowa, chairman of the committee; Hattin W. Sumners of Texas, C. A. Christopher of South Dakota, J. G. Hawes of Maine, John N. Tillman of Arkansas and Earl C. Michener of Michigan.

"While most of the talks were flattering enough, Congressman Sumners digressed from the complimentary vein long enough to refer indirectly to the work of the committee in St. Louis and tell his listeners a few things which, as he put it, he had been 'scared to say at home.'"

Calling attention to the increasing tendency to place important work entirely in the hands of committees, he delivered a vehement attack upon centralization of government and the complacency with which the people view what he termed the steady and alarming shift of Government toward the bureaucratic form, "the most tyrannical, oppressive and dangerous form of rule in the world."

Work of Committees.

"The immense volume of work piled upon Congress and other departments of government," he said, "has made necessary the appointment of committees and the formation of bureaus to perform various acts of Government upon their own responsibility. These bureaus and committees in many cases are invested with full legislative, judicial and executive powers, which is manifestly contrary to the principles upon which this nation is founded because it takes government entirely out of the hands of the people.

"Now to whom are these committees to answer for their acts? With Congress adjourned, as it is now, there is only one man in the United States who has any means of supervision over them. That man is President Coolidge, and with more than 500,000 persons operating the machinery of this Government, how is it possible for Calvin Coolidge to know what all of them are doing? What chance has a private citizen against one of these bureaus or committees invested with full governmental power to crush him?"

"These bodies may be made up of honest men, but they are bound to err in judgment sometimes and then you howl your heads off if their work is not done as it should be. You have yourselves to blame for you put the Government in their hands. It is high time you were getting away from the mythology of Fourth of July orations and making a definite choice between decentralization of power and government by bureaus."

Boies Praises City.

Congressman Boies, who declared that the capital of the United States "ought to be in St. Louis but never will be during your lifetime or mine," was especially warm in his praise for the city's parks. In no city in the United States, he declared, had he ever seen a city park to compare with Forest Park.

Another impression gained on this visit, the first in 15 years, he said, was that St. Louis had more successful business men in proportion to its population than any other city in the country.

In defense of Congress and Congressmen, he declared he knew of no class of men more honest than those comprising the membership of the House and Senate and asked that the public, before offering criticism, consider the fact that Congressmen do not always have the chance to do what they wish to do and what their constituents demand.

Pointing out that St. Louis is in the center of the greatest producing region of the world, Congressman Christopher urged that more attention be directed to capitalization of the Mississippi and Missouri rivers, which he asserted were carrying only a small fraction of the traffic they should carry. With the United States producing a third of the world's agricultural products and a fifth of the world's wealth, and St. Louis in the geographical center of all of it, he said, only neglect of opportunity could prevent this city from becoming the greatest industrial and trading center in America.

Congressman Michener and Tillman, whose talks were shortened by lack of time, also stressed the importance of river transportation in the commercial future of both St. Louis and the Mississippi Valley as a whole. Michener declaring an examination of the city's facilities had shown money appropriated by Congress for waterways development had been well spent. However, he called attention to the fact that the Mississippi River belongs to the entire country as well as St. Louis and urged that this be taken into consideration when pressure was exerted upon the Government for waterways support.

City Surprises Hersey.

Congressman Hersey, on his first visit to St. Louis, declared he received the surprise of his life upon arrival here. He had always entertained the notion, he said, that St. Louis was a provincial, grown-up, old-fashioned town "somewhere out here on the Mississippi River."

Instead, he declared, he found a colossal city, wide awake, progressive and filled with industries, skyscrapers and palatial homes. In the fact that St. Louis is a city of homes, he concluded, lies its greatest possibility of becoming the leading industrial center of the world because homes make for permanent residence.

Congressman Royal J. Waller, who was also scheduled to speak, was unable to be present, having been called to New York last week to attend a funeral.

can this be done without imperiling the foundations of the British rule in India? The Maharajah is a Hindu; his merchant rival, Abdul Baula, was a Mohammedan; and Hindu-Muslim conflicts constantly agitate India.

Moreover, the Maharajah is a sovereign Prince whose rights are protected by a treaty with Great Britain. True, this murder was not in India, but in Bombay. Britain, some urge, should appoint a commission of ruling Princes, equals of the Maharajah, with a British Peer as chairman, to try him, and if he is found guilty, to depose him and keep him as a State prisoner.

Nest Egg Still Intact.

The Maharajah's fabulously wealthy Queen, Ahalyabai, ruled India in the Eighteenth century, left a hoard then worth 110,000,000 rupees ($30,000,000), consisting of gold and silver coins and bars and cut and uncut gems never to be touched except in case of danger to the State or to the sovereign's life or liberty. That nest egg remains intact.

The Swaraj, or anti-British home rule movement, supported by the Indian masses, lacks campaign funds for the ruling Princes in their own interests support British control. C. R. Das, Indian lawyer, is the executive head of the Swaraj movement and its most forceful exponent. He shares with the saintly, impractical Ghandi, the spiritual leadership of the anti-British movement. According to information received here, Das intends to appear to represent the Maharajah, when the trial of Baula's assassin begins. It is an astonishing union, only explicable, British officials fear, by the theory that the Maharajah, a little alarmed at the storm gathering around him, has promised to help finance the Swaraj.

Strongly in the Maharajah's favor is the tradition of personal loyalty to their sovereign, generations old, existing among his ministers and officials. If necessary, the Adjutant-General of his army, the commander of his mounted police, the captain of his air force and other persons concerned in the Mahar Hill murders, in all probability would go to the scaffold rather than betray the man higher up.

The dead man's chauffeur, bribed by the Maharajah's agents to further the murder and kidnapping, alone has turned only his evidence and he owes no personal loyalty to the Prince.

Mumtaz Became Converted.

The first appearance of Mumtaz Begum — the 10-year-old — before the young Maharajah as a dancing girl was not a success. More obdurate than Salome, she refused to dance and was sent in disgrace back to her parents in Amritsar.

Memories of her childish charm, her pertness and independence must have haunted the sovereign who sent for her again. As Mumtaz Begum was a Moslem she could not dwell in the sovereign's palace, which is sanctified ground, for the Maharajah is a strict Hindu. But Mumtaz became converted and received the Hindu name of Kamala Bai—the Lady of the Lotus.

By the time she was 14 a wing of the palace was hers. She had an army of attendants, a fleet of state motor cars, chests of state jewels. In all but name she was Maharajane. The allowance for her maintenance, running into hundreds of thousands of pounds yearly, formed part of the state budget and appeared in official treasury accounts.

Kamala Bai, however, paid for her grandeur. She was kept in strictest Purdah, never permitted to unveil before or converse with any man except her master. So she became bored.

The Maharajah took her to Europe at 18 and bought her $1,000,000 worth of jewels in the Rue de la Paix. The following year her baby girl was born in London. The child, she says, was murdered in revenge for her escape.

Fled to Meet Baula.

Two summers ago the egypt blood of Mumtaz asserted itself while the court was in residence at a hill resort. She escaped in disguise from her apartments and met a great Bombay merchant in the full vigor of manhood, the handsome and fascinating Abdul Kadir Baula.

Kamala Bai seems to have been genuinely fascinated. She risked too much later not to have loved him. Then began the great game of "ijjat" between merchant and Prince. Soon the whole country knew of the rivalry between Baula and the sovereign. Everyone knew that "ijjat" required Baula's death and the recovery Mumtaz. Efforts continued during two years to induce Mumtaz to return voluntarily. Wherever she went agents of the Maharajah followed her. Threats succeeded promises and bribes. Both Mumtaz and Baula knew the danger. They took all possible precautions and the British authorities did what they could to guard them.

The whole resources of the Indore state were employed last winter to make the plot a success.

Evidence of complicity between the murder gang and the Indore government exists in abundance. The red Maxwell used by the assassins was bought by the Adjutant-General, who is one of the nine men under arrest as principals in the murder, and it was kept in a garage at one of the Maharajah's two Bombay palaces. Before the murder, Mumtaz testified, several men from Indore had brought her a message direct from the Maharajah that if she would not return willingly she would be brought by other means.

Popular Tumults Feared.

The most incriminating bit of evidence produced at the preliminary hearing—and much evidence was held back—was a telegram sent after the murder of Baula by an unnamed "high official in Bombay" to the Maharajah's aide de camp in Indore, reading, "One person killed, four wounded, one arrested."

In India the murder has created tremendous difficulties for the British Government and may raise a religious as well as a political crisis, especially if Das takes up the cause of the Maharajah. Popular tumults in Bombay when the murder trial commences are feared, and there is strong probability that the Indore officials will be tried instead in the less excitable Calcutta.

Stokes Witness Sues for Divorce.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 2.—Edgar A. Stokes, formerly of Bloomington, Ill., retired naval officer, was sued for divorce yesterday by Mrs. Alice Smith Ewing. Mrs. Ewing charges her husband deserted her more than two years ago, taking up his residence in Baltimore. The Ewings were married in San Antonio, Tex., in 1916, while Ewing was a Captain of field artillery. Mrs. Ewing was a girlhood friend of Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes and was a witness here recently in the conspiracy trial in which W. E. D. Stokes was acquitted.

Called as Witness, Man Confesses.

By the Associated Press.

LEESVILLE, La., April 2.—William Hunt of Leesville, who was called into court here to testify against James Stephens, charged with attempting to murder Joseph Stephens, a local transfer company operator, arose and pleaded guilty of the crime himself here yesterday, and was sentenced to serve three years in the penitentiary. Paul Cleveland, who had testified that he saw James Stephens shoot Joseph Stephens, was arrested on a charge of perjury.

Case Now Four Years

State Convict Him First Time Was Ruled Out by Supreme Court.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

UNION, Mo., April 2.—In current discussion of criminal justice the case of "Jimmy" Hogan, St. Louis gangster, is a pertinent topic.

Four years ago, almost to a day, Eric Pillow, negro messenger for the North St. Louis Savings Trust Co., was robbed in St. Louis and Hogan was arrested and charged with a part in the robbery. His third trial under the charge ended here yesterday without result. If Hogan is innocent, the charge remains against him. If he is guilty, he is still unrepentant.

A final decision still is awaited in his case and in the meanwhile time is weakening the prosecution, as delays always do. The State expects to try Hogan a fourth time, at the August term of court, in spite of the fact that yesterday's entry of mistrial was the second in the case.

Two Men Deadlocked Jury.

The jury deliberated for a little less than 24 hours, minus a few hours for sleep and an hour for meals. It was hopelessly deadlocked from start to finish. Seven ballots were taken at long intervals. On the first two the vote was 8 to 2 for acquittal. Herman Sprick of New Haven, W. A. Powers of Pacific and James Maher of St. Albans voted for conviction. Sprick was won over to the "not guilty" side, but Powers and Maher remained adamant. Powers is a director of the Citizens' Bank of Pacific, of which Defense Attorney James Booth is president, and years ago Booth was Powers' schoolmaster.

Jurors, besides Sprick, who stood out for acquittal, were: George Peters of Washington; William Farrell of Gerald; Louis Gorg of St. Clair; William Beck of New Haven; William H. Burris of Robersonville; M. P. Bieble of Elmont; J. H. Rommelmann of Sullivan; Fred C. Dams of Gerald; and John F. Schweer of Elmont. All the jurors are farmers except Rommelmann, the foreman, who is a carpenter, and Peters, a shoe worker.

Foreman Rommelmann and others explained that they did not believe the State had made a strong case and that they found contradictions in evidence brought out by cross examination. Their answers indicated that they had not been particularly impressed by the alibi that was the defense. They could not state what their attitude might have been had it been shown by the prosecution that Pillow had identified Hogan as his assailant.

Opinions of Jurors.

This was shown at the first trial, when a jury of Franklin County farmers sentenced Hogan to 10 years imprisonment. Policemen of Pillow's statement, since Pillow had been murdered by gangsters to prevent his testimony. However, the State Supreme Court, in reversing the verdict, ruled this evidence out, which was a blow to the prosecution. The jury at the second trial was deadlocked, 10 to 2 for conviction.

Powers and Maher were outspoken in saying they did not believe Hogan's alibi but had been convinced of his guilt. Other jurors rejoined that they had been guided by the court's instruction to give the defendant the benefit of reasonable doubt.

Not once did the jury ask for additional instructions or communicate with the court otherwise. At 3:45 p. m. yesterday the foreman asked when they might expect to be released, but Sheriff Gorg told them to go back to jail. Breuer sent for the jury and ascertained that it could not reach an agreement, whereupon he discharged it to the expressed relief of the jurors. Hogan was not in court when the mistrial was ordered, though he was still in town with his bodyguard.

Hogan has been at liberty under bond continuously.

Indicating that the State would prosecute Hogan again, Circuit Attorney Sidener said today: "I understand the case has gone over till August. We'll be there."

Two Killed by Train.

FLORENCE, S. C., April 2.—Dr. Plummer Alford of Mullins, a brother-in-law of Gov. Thomas G. McLeod, and his two-year-old daughter were killed when their automobile was struck by a passenger Air Line train near Darlington, yesterday. Mrs. Alford was injured. The three were returning to their home after attending the funeral of Mrs. Alford's mother at Rockhill, S. C.

or Democrats. On that basis, I'm in. Some will vote because they know one or the other of the candidates. But the great majority whose vote I really want, are the element of citizens who want the same thing out of government that I want—an honest, courageous and sincere form of government. We have fought for that. It follows that your problem in this campaign is to select the man who will give you that kind of government.

"Newspaper comments and your own observation will do for me. Do the thugs, in all the things they say, ever say I was crooked? "A man may be honest and intelligent, but what good is it unless he has courage, moral courage, to do what he believes is right and fair, regardless of the consequences to himself. The Mayor must be a man able to stand the gaff. If he isn't, what will he do when the Post-Dispatch gets after him? Surprised at the Clergy.

"If John the Baptist came back to St. Louis as Mayor, with Washington, Lincoln and Jefferson in his Cabinet, the Post-Dispatch would find something against them in 24 hours.

"I am surprised that some respectable people, even members of the clergy, are backing the move to put the gangsters in the City Hall."

"I don't know how long I'll last in the City Hall," Miller said, and the crowd uttered, evidently with the memory of his dismissal from the Police Board by former Gov. Hyde, "Big I am young and healthy and as long as I am there, it will be open season on the Egans, Hogans and Cuckoos."

Miller, in a brief discussion of the bond issue provision for placing city lights, said light was a great crime deterrent. He declared he did not want gangsters having the "say" as to where the lights would be put.

Law enforcement, the nominee declared, is the most constructive pledge in the Republican platform, adding that it was "radical to the Democratic machine gangsters." He believed in enforcing the law for the people's sake, not for the law's sake.

"The gangsters know they don't want me," Miller said in concluding. "They didn't want me in the primary. They never did want me and they never will want me. A business administration demands that they be cleaned out. They know if I am elected they can demand no spoils from me."

Two Other Meetings.

Miller then spoke at St. Louis Turner Hall, Fifteenth and Chouteau avenues, to about 1200 persons and later appeared before a negro gathering of about 350 at the Metropolitan A. M. E. Church, Garrison and Lucas avenues.

Miller repeated his statements about the Post-Dispatch and said: "Men have been forced to kneel to that false god because they feared publicity. I realize I am only one person in 110,000,000 and that the world will go on without me just as it will with me. But I am standing for a cause which I believe the people want. Next Tuesday I think that cause will be sustained. We have only a few days left to work. If the decent people by their lack of interest permit the gangsters to get control, and you come home some evening and find your wife or child cold in death from the hand of a murderer, then get down on your knees and beg the forgiveness of God."

"And on the night of April 7, along about 11 o'clock, I'm going down to the city hall and look over the tally sheets and I'm confident I'll see there that I've been elected. Then I'll go home and do something I don't always do. I'll get down on my knees and thank God for delivering St. Louis from the Egans, the Hogans and the Cuckoos."

Miller terminated his evening at the Melbourne Hotel before the West End Business Men's Association, where about 300 persons heard him speak.

LIQUOR IN PIANO PRIVATE CAR 'GERALDINE FARRAR'

Bottles Behind Footboard Trip From Montreal For by Customs Men.

By the Associated Press.

ROUSE'S POINT, N. Y., April 2.—The matter of prosecution of Geraldine Farrar, noted singer, the result of the seizure of liquor in her private car, was in abeyance today pending a report from customs agents here to the port at Ogdensburg.

The singer's private car, a 1935 Ford, was boarded by four customs collectors after it crossed the border on route from Montreal to Rutland, Vt. Mrs. Farrar was to appear in court. The fast Montreal-New York Express, of which her car was part, was held up for 15 minutes while the search was being made.

Four deputies said they found about 40 bottles of champagne, whisky and beer concealed in the car, some in the lower part of piano, back of the footboard, and in the trunk. The car was still in the mid's room and still behind the ventilators.

Mrs. Farrar was in bed in stateroom and was not disturbed. She did not appear during search.

The singer and her party were allowed to proceed to Rutland without furnishing bond. It is pointed out, however, in cases of persons attempting to bring small stocks of liquor into the country in their baggage, the usual procedure is merely to confiscate the contraband with prosecution unless the owner of liquor refuses to surrender it.

RUTLAND, Vt., April 2.—Monsieur of Geraldine Farrar's party said today that it was near and not champagne that customs agents seized when they searched her private car. Her manager, who said that the car had been found in the car and said it would be used to smuggle champagne to the United States when it was easily obtainable here.

PROPRIETOR OF SOFT DRINK PARLOR SHOT IN $15 HOLDUP

Robber Fired When Victim Reached for Bottle After Order to "Hands Up."

Paul Gagliarducci, 34 years of age, 324 South Fourth street, shot in the breast and seriously injured by a robber who entered his soft drink parlor at 10 o'clock last night.

Gagliarducci was waiting on customer when a roughly dressed man entered and ordered a glass of soda water. As he was pouring the drink, the man commanded him to raise his hands, which he did, holding the large soda bottle.

Apparently believing that he was about to be struck by the bottle, the robber fired. Gagliarducci turned and ran upstairs to his living room.

When he returned a few minutes later, the place was empty, and had been taken from the cash register. Police took Gagliarducci to the city hospital where his condition is said to be serious.

UNIDENTIFIED WOMAN KILLED BY TRAIN AT WEBSTER GROVE

She Was Walking on Tracks When Struck by Missouri Pacific Kansas City Passenger.

An unidentified woman, about 40 years old, was killed by a Missouri Pacific Kansas City train near Webster station in Webster Grove at 5:45 a. m. today.

She was unconscious when found, but died in an ambulance on the way to the city hospital in St. Louis. She weighed about 200 pounds and wore a blue calico dress and a brown sweater.

Witnesses said she was walking toward Webster Station, about 100 yards east, and apparently did not hear the train approaching behind her. She was hurled from the tracks and fell into a ditch.

GALLANTRY OF BOY COSTS A BROKEN ARM

Willie Jacobs Cranks Stalled Car for Woman and Suffers Fracture.

The gallantry of a 15-year-old boy in hastening to the aid of a woman whose automobile had stalled last night cost him a broken right arm.

The boy, Willie Jacobs, of 4407 Evans avenue, was standing at Newstead avenue and Page boulevard about 9 p. m. when a Durant touring car operated by a woman, stalled near the intersection. Willie approached and asked if he could help.

Yes, the woman said, he might crank the car for her if he wished. When the engine back-fired and hurt his arm a little he paid no attention and went right on cranking until the motor started. The woman said "Thank you" and went on her way.

Suddenly his arm began to pain him, Willie said, and he went home. His parents rushed him to the Missouri Baptist Sanitarium where the arm was found to be fractured. The police were called and told about the accident.

Tracing the license number, which the boy had taken, they went to the home of Mrs. William J. Say, at 4272 Washington boulevard. She said a very gallant little boy had cranked her machine for her, but had said nothing about being hurt. Later she visited the hospital and assured Willie he would be taken care of.

CARPENTERS AT TWO NEW BUILDINGS QUIT WORK

The partial crippling of building operations in St. Louis which resulted yesterday from a strike of 15 hoisting engineers for an increase in wages from $1.50 to $1.85 an hour, was augmented today by the walkout of carpenters at the new Jewish Hospital Kingshighway and Forest Park boulevard, and a new Bell Telephone station under construction at Grand boulevard and Botanical avenue.

The walkout of carpenters at the two jobs resulted from a dispute with sheet metal workers over the installation of metal window frames. This work was being done by the metal workers. When they refused to surrender it upon claims of the carpenters that it properly belonged to them, the carpenters quit work until their claim should be granted.

Building operations at the Masonic Temple, Beaumont High [B. Nugent & Bro. Dry Goods Co.] can without the services of derrick School and the new structure of [are progressing today as best they men.

Herman Rosenthal Tells Bankruptcy Referee He Can't Remember Many Details of His Business.

WAS ONE OF MEN WHO DEALT WITH UFLAND

Three Transactions Elicited From Rosenthal Which Seemed to Be of Interest to the Referee.

Cross-examination of Herman Rosenthal, bankrupt jeweler, by Referee, in Bankruptcy Court yesterday brought out three transactions which seemed to interest the Referee, besides many details which Rosenthal "couldn't just remember."

Rosenthal was the fourth jeweler to fail following the sudden exit from local financial circles of Jacob Ufland, president of the National Jewelry Co., which failed with outstanding claims of $600-000. Claims against Rosenthal's three stores amounted to more than $100,000.

Explanation that a $250 check to Ed Greenberg was for an election bet, made when Rosenthal was on the verge of bankruptcy, was elicited. Rosenthal said the bet was made Nov. 4. The check was dated Nov. 18, about the time Ufland disappeared. "Why the delay?" Referee Coles asked. Rosenthal explained that Greenberg left town and returned Nov. 18.

No Memorandum of Wager
"Was there no memorandum of the wager?"

"Oh, no. It was a transaction between men of honor."
The same lack of records, supplemented by an occasional lapse of memory, was discovered in connection with loans for which Rosenthal said he gave a chattel morgage for $2000 on the stock of one store as collateral. The loans amounted to $2400, he said. The holder of the mortgage was E. J.
Neff, "a close associate and intimate friend." What was his occupation?

"I think he was a railroad switchman or engineer. I don't know just exactly." Neff, it was gathered from Ros-enthal's affable explanation, had told him that he, Neff, had inherited money. On May 15, 1924, Neff had dropped into the store where Rosenthal was. Rosenthal had confided that business was rotten and he needed money. That had led up to the first loan, $300.

Version of Loans From Neff.
Five weeks later Rosenthal had borrowed $500 from him; a week after that, $500; two weeks after that, $500; three weeks after that, $500; and one week after that, $100. Neff, accommodating fellow that he was, had brought the money to Rosenthal each time and had taken no memorandum of the loans. Neither did Rosenthal keep any record. These four days after the last loan, however, Neff had dropped in and remarked that he ought to have some sort of protection; hence the mortgage.

Rosenthal recounted the following conversation, which he said took place the following January after his concern had been thrown into bankruptcy:
"Hello, Rose."
"Hello, Neff."
"Where you going?"
"Oh, no place in particular."
"Have you got that money?"
"No, but I'm going to work soon.
I'll get it for you."

Delay in Filing Trust Deed.
The deed of trust was dated Aug. 10, 1924, but it was not recorded until Nov. 28, a week before Rosenthal's failure became a matter of court record. Yes, Rosenthal was aware that the mortgage would lessen his credit to the amount of the deed when it was recorded, but he had no way of telling why Neff waited until then to record it.
"Wasn't it about then that certain large notes became due?" asked the Referee. It was. "I was surely a remarkable and fortunate coincidence," Referee Coles remarked. "that your friend did not get around to recording that deed until this peculiarly opportune moment. Did you by any chance know when you gave that mortgage that your property would not return 10 cents on the dollar?"

"Well," Rosenthal exclaimed, "I thought business would maybe pick up, but it didn't. Instead it went from bad to worse."

Also Mortgaged His Auto.
A second deed of trust for $1000 on an automobile which Rosenthal was buying on time was made out to his brother-in-law, Ed Yedlin.
He said this was given as security for loans in amounts of $100 to $250. He had no record of them.
Yedlin had saved the money from his salary as a clerk and manager of a tailor shop. Yedlin had a bank account, but the loans were made in cash. He got the cash from his wife. She always kept $200 or maybe $300 in the house. She got it from her husband.

Referee Coles brought out that most of Rosenthal's $108,000 liabilities had been contracted before the mortgage was given. "When he gave it, did he suspect that Ufland was gone?"

"I had an idea he had skipped out," Rosenthal said.

ELLINGSON SAYS WIFE TRIED TO CHOKO HIM

Girl Slayer's Attorney Declares Defense Will Show Prenatal Influence.

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—Joseph Ellingson, the broken father of Dorothy Ellingson, 17-year-old slayer of her mother, was called as a witness today to tell what he knows that could prove his daughter was insane when she shot and killed Mrs. Anna Ellingson last January.

Father on Stand.
When the father was called the young defendant appeared to be nervous.

The defense went into its theory that prenatal influences disposed Dorothy toward insanity. Under questioning Joseph Ellingson said: "About three months before Dorothy was born her mother came into the bedroom where I was sleeping alone and tried to choke me. I overpowered her with difficulty, after which she fell to the floor in a faint."

"Did you ever talk to your daughter regarding her late hours?" he asked the witness. He explained that he warned her that she should consider her future, that a girl of her years should not go with older persons of doubtful character.

As her father exposed her life, the girl continued to twist her handskerchief.

He testified that as a child she always had been "too large for her age."

He was asked: "Did you and your wife ever attend church?"

"Did Dorothy ever attend Sunday school?" "Once in a while, when she was little."

In opening the sanity hearing before a jury yesterday, a child-counsel, Alexander Mookin, said that a "pre-natal influence would be shown in testimony regarding the abnormality of her mother shortly before her birth."

He promised to establish the circumstances that produced in Dorothy "this monstrous combination of a child in years and a woman in nature." He outlined the evidence that would be offered of her early irregularities which began at the age of 12, when she and another girl ran away from home with men.

Later, her attorney said, she formed other intimate associations with men, some of whom she knew only by such names as "Goof," "Frenchy" and "Joe."

No Moral Training.
"She began to frequent the so-called jazz palaces," she kept late hours and drank bootleg," he said. The attorney related how the girl's father and mother separated about a year before Mrs. Ellingson's death. The child, he explained, had a hard home life, with no moral or religious training.

"This unfortunate mother," he added, "frequently tried in a friendly way to restrain her. The girl never threatened her mother. There was no real quarrel between them. The girl's only threats were that she would run away from home."

Earl Ellingson, a brother who is seven years Dorothy's senior, said she "would mumble to herself" when her mother reproved her. He told of her running away from home. Once he and his mother heard she was in Turlock, Cal., and they went there and brought her home. She went to business college, he said, and held jobs at different times, but her life was irregular, punctuated by absences from home, late hours and parties.

Twice yesterday, which was her 17 birthday, the girl fainted. Each time she was revived she came back to court smiling faintly and looking at the presents her father had not forgotten to bring even in this extremity.

Purdy Jury Is Completed.

By the Associated Press.

TULSA, Ok., April 2.—A jury to try Charles E. Purdy, minor executive in an oil company, who killed E. S. Hutchinson, wealthy lumberman, for the alleged theft of his wife's love, was completed late yesterday. Purdy killed Hutchinson with a shotgun as the lumberman sat in his motor car in front of the Tulsa postoffice on the night of Jan. 13. Purdy said he had slain the man who had broken up his home. Mrs. Helen Paul Purdy, mother of his two young children, whom he divorced last December, announced the day after Hutchinson was buried that she was to have married him within a few days.

14-YEAR-OLD SCHOOLBOY IS KILLED BY TRACTION TRAIN

Body of Elmer Green identified by parents at Morgue—No Witnesses to Accident.
 Elmer Green, 14-year-old schoolboy of 2619 North Eleventh street, was killed by a traction train on the street car line of the Illinois and Mississippi River Railroad Co. (McKinley System) at the intersection of North Eleventh street and Madison street, St. Louis, at 6:30 p. m. yesterday. The deceased body was found on the tracks a few minutes later by St. Louis police of 1113 North Eleventh street, and taken to the morgue.

Shortly before midnight the boy's mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. William O'Brien identified the body. Whether the boy was struck while crossing the street or fell on the wheels of the electric train was not determined as no witnesses were determined as no witnesses to the accident have been identified.

Reason D. Edwards, of 4013 Schiller street, motorman of the express train, was certain his train had not one and a half blocks south of Tucker of 315 North Boyle avenue, said he had seen no one attempting to steal a ride. Neither was there had been an accident involving the electric train upon their return, both gave a for their appearance before the coroner.

 Police of the North Market Street district, equipped with a search warrant, entered the home of Mrs. Amelia Zielinski, 44 years old, a widow living at 1207 Monroe street, yesterday afternoon and confiscated a quantity of moonshine and moonshine. Mrs. Zielinski was placed under arrest.

In a third-floor attic room police found a still, with a capacity of 15 gallons, three 10-gallon barrels of wheat and a sack of 75 pounds of wheat. The still was found in a wardrobe on the second floor. A gallon keg partly filled with moonshine was found. Mrs. Zielinski made no attempt to explain the presence of the liquor in her home.

INDICTED FOR LUMBER FRAUD

George is Said to Have Made $200,000 in Falsifying Costs.
 The Associated Press.
 MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 2.—Sam Thompson, formerly general manager of the hardware department of the Anderson-Tully company, a Memphis concern, and Louisiana lumbermen were indicted yesterday by the Federal District court and jury here yesterday. The indictments came as a sequel to a grand jury report that Thompson had made $200,000 in falsifying costs by the Anderson-Tully company for logs bought in Louisiana for the company's accounts in 1932. The money was obtained, according to the prosecution, by connivance through falsifying value on logs bought at auction prices for the company. The difference between the actual and the amount of the drafts divided, the indictment charged.

"Never Had Explanation."
"I have never been able, despite my earnest efforts, to get any explanation of this unwarranted entry of my home and this search.
No charge has ever been placed against me, or any of my relatives.
There was any mention made by the police on this particular night, of any charge or suspicion that they had laid."

"This is not hearsay. This is absolute fact. It was an incident of the day. A typical news account of police activity during the period when Victor Miller was president of the Police Board. I do not know whether he was there or not. I do not know whether he ordered that search, but I do know that he looked place and that it is a terrible and unwarranted piece of work, which no man in the community of Police Commissioner should tolerate."

"I have made these statements because you may know, but I do not know, at least one private home in the city of St. Louis which was raided by the police during Victor Miller's term of office, and that the man who was the head of the family of the family of the city of St. Louis is a resident of St. Louis."

AND OFFICIAL LAWLESSNESSAs President of Police Board, Inaugurated Policy Which Resulted in Raids on Homes and Hotels Without Warrants — Rebukes in Courts for Wrongful Arrests.OFFICIAL lawlessness characterized the reign of Victor J.
Miller, Republican candidate for Mayor, as president of the St.
Louis Board of Police Commissioners.Wholesale arrests, invasions of hotels and homes without warrant at all hours of the night and early morning, denial of the right of prisoners to private conference with counsel, reckless preferment of criminal charges which the courts could not uphold, were put in force in St. Louis under the Miller regime."Treat 'em rough," Miller told his policemen after he had taken the chair of the Police Board in 1921. Coming as it did when the usual winter crime wave was sweeping over the city the order instantly caught popular enthusiasm.Miller used spectacular methods.
The "night riders" were organized and traveling about in fast cars made night calls on the haunts of criminals.Men who had police records were picked up and held for 20 hours and in many cases were gratuitously slugged by the policemen who arrested them, with the consequent approval of Miller, for Miller had said in a public address "What they need (the criminals) is a good hot beating."Policemen knew that there would be no reprimand if they did slug police characters, for Miller had said in the same address: "They (the police) know that if they beat up a crook who needs beating they are not going to lose their jobs."An order was issued that prisoners would not be permitted to talk to attorneys or bondsmen except in the presence of a policeman. This agent of the new police espionage was instructed to report "anything suspicious" in the interview to his superior officer. Such a rule was made in the face of Section 3200 of the Revised Statutes of Missouri which gives prisoners the right of consultation with counsel and by implication the right to consult counsel privately.Every night saw the night riders whirling around town "throwing out the dragnet," as they called it.
Sometimes Miller received reports of their work at his home or the office, but more often he participated in the raids, a revolver in his hand and a grin of youthful enthusiasm on his face.The first official reminder that these tactics were being used with utter disregard to the constitutional rights of citizens came on March 22 when 39 women and eight men, caught in the dragnet of the two nights before, appeared in the court of Circuit Judge Ittner, then Police Judge.Similar sessions on other mornings had excited the Judge's alarm and on this occasion he admonished the policemen who were present against the indiscriminate arrests the police were making."It looks as though you arrested these people just to get the 50-cent bond fee charged by the desk ser-gants," Judge Ittner said. "It strikes me that highway robbery would be a more honorable way of getting the money. Don't bring these people in court unless you have sufficient evidence to convict them."Policemen who were present said they had arrested the women because they had found them in company with women of known questionable character. They admitted they did not know the character of the defendants by reputation. The defendants were discharged.The raids went on and as the raiders gained assurance they began to branch out in their activities until they trampled more and more on the rights of citizens.Door smashing became the order of the day. A typical news account of a police raid on June 10, 1921, contained the following paragraph:

VICTOR J. MILLER.

"When they (the night riders) visited the Reo Hotel, 4053 Olive street, six men ran into a room and locked the door. The six men are now in the holdover and the door needs repair."

None of these men was then charged with a crime. The raiding party had no warrant to search the hotel, but had just "dropped in."
It was not to be wondered that they soon "dropped in" on a downtown hotel of good standing.

On Jan. 26, 1922, the guests of the Claridge Hotel were disturbed about 8:30 p. m. by a squad of men who went through the fourth and eighth floors, banging on doors and calling upon the occupants of the rooms to give an account of themselves.

Guests reported to the management that the men, who were detectives, shouted to guests who did not respond quickly.

"When the detectives had poked their heads in at my room, and started away without giving any explanation, I saw them go to the door of the room occupied by my wife and her sister," one guest reported. "I called to them and told them who were in the room, but they insisted on pounding on the door and finding out for themselves."

Who was being sought in this spectacular manner? Lieut. Dudley McDonald, now a Captain, was asked.

It was a couple of fur thieves, was the substance of his reply.

And were they seen going into the hotel?

No.

How was their alleged presence known?

By an anonymous tip.

Were they found and arrested?

No. Two men were found in a room with a lot of furs. It developed they were salesmen and the furs were samples.

Did the detectives have either search warrant or permission of the hotel management to invade the building?

No.

To such a point had Miller's official lawlessness come.

Earlier in the month of January nightriders had invaded the Bevo Mill, a well-known restaurant on Gravois road. Sergeant Richard Delaney told reporters he had not disturbed the diners but I. Abram, head waiter, reported that nine detectives had entered the place at 11 p. m. while 200 diners were present, stopped the music, and searched the men on the dance floor.

They had also searched among the tables and had invaded a private party in the banquet room behind the cafe, he said. They had had no search warrant nor any reason to make indiscriminate search on the rights of citizens.

From hotel raids it was only a step to the raiding of homes. Policemen invaded the home of Eugene J. Schwind, 1927 A Union boulevard, on April 3, 1922, dur-

Denied Arrested Persons the Right of Private Consultation With Their Attorneys and Sent His

ize Private Social Gatherings.ing the early morning hours and arrested Schwind, his wife, two of her women friends and three men who were guests of the evening. They were engaged in a game of "rummy."Even though several bottles of home brew were seized in the raid, the defendants were discharged in Police Court, the ruling being that the policemen were without right to invade the home. A similar ruling was made when the police attempted to get dry law warrants against Schwind and his wife.The ill-success of their home raiding activities did not dampen the police. On April 3, 1922, a Detective Sergeant Roach and his squad raided the home of William Buchanan, an electrical engineer, 5015 Vernon avenue.Buchanan and five men friends were arrested. On the following day the police judge, in Police Court, released them, the reason being they were charged with gambling. They had been playing 25-cent limit poker, a game which the Court admitted he enjoyed.The raid on Buchanan's home was made on an anonymous tip, a circumstance which aroused Judge Miller's indignation. He said that he would go to the police and remark that "it would be much more worth while if the police would try to catch criminals and bank robbers who are in the city."Another raid on a home was made in May of 1921. The object of the visitation was the home of William Sandweg, manager of the American National Insurance Co., who lives at 5324 North Market street. Detectives searched his home at 2 o'clock in the morning, he has reported, giving no reason for the search and finding nothing.His wife and children were awakened as the men walked through the house shining their flashlights into dark corners. One of them held Sandweg against a wall and asked him if anyone else was in the house. They used no violence in the search but the raid was unexplained and as might be expected, greatly disturbed the members of the family.A month after the early morning raid on this home a child was born to Mrs. Sandweg.So it was that the police department, having been told to "treat 'em rough," did so—raiding homes as well as crooks' hangouts. Happily Miller has already signed his death warrant as president of the Police Board with his scandalous charge about the children of Sol-dan High School, a scandal he failed to substantiate with proof.On April 25, 1922, he was removed as President and with the accusation of Philip H. Brockman to his place the official lawlessness of the police force became a thing of the past. Almost a year later, on April 13, 1923, Miller was removed from the Board by Governor Hyde.His charge was already signed his death warrant as president of the Police Board with his scandalous
charge about the children of Sol-
dan High School, a scandal he failed to substantiate with proof.The controversy caused by Mr.
Miller's considered lawlessness has seriously crippled police administration in St. Louis.Hyde had said two days before Miller was ousted as president. "The big fact which stands out above all others is that Mr. Miller has forfeited public confidence and thereby seriously impaired his own usefulness."Miller remained on the board as a member until April 13, 1923, when he was removed by Gov. Hyde after a year of bickering among the members of the Police Board. Hyde explained the removal of Miller as being due to the lack of concord between the members of the board which set up factionalism and brought about a failure of the board to act together.6,862 neuro-psychiatric cases and 7126 cases were being handled by the bureau.

Austrian Sounds War Alarm.

VIENNA, April 2.—A sensation has been caused by an address delivered by Dr. Bauer, Socialist member of the national assembly, before a meeting of Republican soldiers. After discussing an amendment to the law extending the period of military service, the Deputy said: "The hour is approaching when danger threatens from Hungary and every soldier will be needed. The hour is also coming when reaction will again raise its head at home unless held in check by fear of your bayonet."HAWES PICTURES the Speaker Asserts.Congressman Harry B. Hawes speaking last night at Mueller's Grove, 5800 Gravois avenue, in behalf of former Congressman William L. Igoe's campaign for Mayor, declared the Mayor adds to the reputation of a city if he brings to the city's management a reputation for poise and calmness and a ripe experience."Such selection," he added, "is an inducement to strangers to come from other places.""If the Mayor is an uncertain man," continued the Eleventh District Representative, "one given to personal vanity, to spectacular achievement, they will pass by his door and take their enterprises to another place."

Importance of Election.

Congressman Hawes pointed out how the city had striven to better itself by an $87,000,000 bond increase, and mentioned the county merger plan. "On next Tuesday," he added, "four people will go to the polls and there each will cast his vote for the man who will direct the completion and mark
"Finis" upon an accomplishment which means so much to all of us."In beginning his address, Congressman Hawes said:
"During the war, while serving in military intelligence, my mind was diverted from problems of municipal government and became concentrated upon that great conflict.""Upon its close I became a member of Congress, and since that time the absorbing question constantly presented of national conflict has occupied my entire attention.""Congress has been in almost continuous session for four years, and upon its close I came home, and find that my city, in a few short days, will select officials to control its business affairs for the next four years."

Choice Business Proposition.

"Once each year business corporations, social and civic leaders, and elected directors of the city meet to control their affairs and direct their destinies for the ensuing year.""St. Louis is now engaged in the same occupation for the same purpose, excepting the selections will be for four years instead of one.""The success of business enterprises, civic organizations and social organizations depend largely upon the good judgment used in the election of their leaders. Identically the same principle applies to the management of a city.""The personality of the man selected to head a business corporation, a labor union, or a social organization inevitably affects that organization. The organization becomes known by the character of its president. His reputation for capacity and ability makes or breaks the success of the undertaking which he directs. If he is a man of good judgment; if he possesses poise and balance; if he is willing to listen; if he has an open mind; if he hears both sides and looks before he leaps; then the affairs of that organization are in safe hands."

No Place for the Spectacular.

"If, upon the contrary, he is spectacular; if he places his personality and his own advancement above that of the organization, he goes to his work with a divided mind, a part of it centered upon himself and another part upon his work.""If the Mayor brings to the city's management a reputation for poise and calmness and a ripe experience he adds to the reputation of the city.""Such selection is an inducement to strangers to come from other places.""Business men contemplating new enterprises which will add to the enrichment of our city and will furnish employment for our members of the working men, will consider the character of our Mayor before settling here. They will desire to know whether he is a safe man, a well-balanced man, and whether his record in the past has been such as to insure stability and certainty of course in the future."

Bearing on Development.

tacular achievement, they will passRussia's Prisons Tend to Reform Evil Doers; No Sentence Exceeds 10 YearsAll Convicts, Known Only by Their Names, Entitled by Law to Week's Vacation Each Year, Regardless of Offense.By LOUIS FISCHER, A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and the Brooklyn Daily Eagle.MOSCOW, March 10.—No prison sentence in Russia may exceed 10 years. The heaviest punishment generally meted out for political crimes is death through shooting, but for the last few years the sentence, though frequently pronounced, was never carried out. It is always commuted to 10 years' confinement.A murderer gets 10 years. So do spies and Government officials who take bribes.Just before I left Moscow I visited the Sokolniki prison. It is not called a prison, but a Correction House, and in fact many of the features of prison life are absent.
There are no prison clothes. The men wear their ordinary suits. They are known by their own names and not by numbers. They live, not isolated in cells, but 10 or 15 together in a large room overlooking the fashion of soldiers in good barracks than of criminals under sentence.

Are Gainfully Employed.

With rare exception the prisoners are gainfully employed within the confines of the Correction House. The prisoners make outlets, soap, photographic materials, steel tools and horse shoes and work in leather and carpentry shops.Since most of them are apprentices and learners, they earn less than a workman at these trades would. Moreover, the shops are always overmanned, so that more people may master the profession.
This increases the expense and therefore reduces salaries.Nevertheless, the prisoners earn enough money to spare some for their families, to buy supplementary food for themselves, as well as to contribute toward a room subscription for one of the sovietby our door and take their enterprises to another place."When the result of the last census was made known and we found that two of our sister cities had passed us in point of population, there was a general feeling not only of disappointment but a certain lessening of civic pride; but this was quickly followed by a determination to move forward more rapidly, more directly and with a concerted plan for a greater and a better city.""We renewed the insistence of our demand for a revived river traffic. We spent our city's money in building docks and landing places for steamboats. Our public-spirited citizens demanded that Congress should do its part for the revival of a transportation that would link our commerce in continuous transport with Asia, Europe and Latin America.""Another group demanded the building of highways and from this group in St. Louis arose the plan for a great connected system of highways throughout Missouri. We demanded the building of concrete arms which would unite the East and the West, so that travelers crossing the continent on tours would see our cities, visit our farms, know our scenic beauty and the mining and agricultural advantages of our State."

Civic Pride Aroused.

"We began to improve the character of our architecture. Office buildings must not only be suitable but they must be beautiful. Our factories should let in the sunlight. They should be sanitary; they should be hospitable, and be of a character which would make the place of work more pleasant."And then came the great plan, overshadowing all else. This was the plan by which all our people should contribute the enormous sum of $87,000,000 to build a municipal section which would surpass that of any city in America; which would open streets, create new parks, erect a convention hall and assemble in one group the municipal and governmental life of the city, a place where we could take our visitors, a spot which would cause emulation in the building of private enterprises; a beautiful surrounding where justice might be better because administered in more noble and inspiring surroundings.""It was a vision at first and the vision had to be changed into actuality. Campaigns were conducted; civic pride was aroused; elections were held; referendums called. Now finally the great plan is ready for completion.""The new St. Louis is about to be established. And to this new St. Louis we are to add thousands of new residents, the people of property of St. Louis County. We are to increase our population, add to our pride, and build in the heart of the Mississippi Valley a new St.
Louis raised on the fine traditions of the old St. Louis."

Crooks Promise to Reform.

The inveterate criminals especially have no profession, and during their life in freedom support themselves only by stealing, robbing and burglary. But here they learn a trade and many of them swore to me that when they were released they would start a new existence and work honestly.The prison has a library which the inmates may patronize between 5 p. m., when their daily labors end, to 10 p. m., which is retiring hour. There is also a movie machine which shows pictures three times a week. Twenty-four of the prisoners constitute an orchestra which practices all day long. Then there are concerts and lectures several evenings a week.More than half the prisoners are enrolled in the classes organized for them. Here they study languages, political science, history, economics from the Communist point of view, physics and chemistry.Some of the teachers are recruited from among the prisoners.
All these social and educational activities take place in the evenings and are, of course, offered free of any charge.

Magazines Published in Prison.

Many persons in Russia publish their own monthly magazines, printed on the premises. I have read some of these and found in them excellent literary talent. But So-kolnik, for some reason, was deficient in this respect.All Russian prisoners, no matter how grievous their crimes, are entitled by law to seven days' vacation per year. These they take whenever they want to and in whatever distribution they choose.
While on vacation they are absolutely free. They are, of course, pledged on their word of honor to return. Infractions, the commandant told me, are very few.24 hours. They were the result of thought, energy and hard work, and the cost will come, either directly or indirectly, out of the savings or the pockets of every man, woman and child within our city's confines."Such is the plan and such has been the progress."On next Tuesday our people will go to the polls and there each will cast his vote for the man who will direct the completion and mark
"Finis" upon an accomplishment which means so much to all of us."Tuesday? Where will we do at the polls on this responsibility? Where deposit this power?"Will we give it to a safe, conservative, well-trained, loyal son of St. Louis, who is known by his four years record in our Municipal Assembly; who is known by his record of eight years in Congress, a part of which was devoted to the local government of the affairs of Washington, our national capital; or shall we give it into the hands of a man without experience in municipal matters, with but a brief-one might say an abbreviated—record of public life?"

Civic Plan Nonpartisan.

"Our big plan—the greater, the better St. Louis—was conceived by both Democrats and Republicans.
It will not be the money of Democrats that will pay for this $87,000, 000 nor will it be exclusively Republican money. It will come from the pockets of all our people."The achievement of this plan, without the support, the co-operation, and the enthusiasm, of all classes of our citizens."So on Tuesday, when we select the new director, the guiding hand for the completion of this plan of beauty and utility, we must give to it the same thought—the same nonpartisan, patriotic thought—that created our plans for the future and have brought them to this point of perfection.""It will be the same spirit which will actuate the men and women when they vote on Tuesday. They will forget that they are Democrats or Republicans. They will cast their vote for the best man.
They will select a guardian in whom they have confidence. They require a steady head, a trained mind, a calm judgment, and they have now made up their minds that this man is W. L. Igoe."

Personality of Igoe.

"Quiet, modest, unassuming, not bent upon self-exploitation, he will come to that high office with a well-trained mind. He is a man who will listen. He is a man who will seek counsel. He is a man who will do team work.""On next Saturday night at 8 o'clock there will be a meeting in each of the 624 voting precincts, composed of men and women who will demand the best director for our city.""Attend the meeting in your precinct. Give your pledge. Do your part."REPRESENTATION

JOSEPH FLORY DIES OF PNEUMONIA AT 68

He Was the Republican Nominee for Governorship in 1900.

Joseph Flory, formerly a State Railroad Commissioner of Missouri and Republican nominee for the governorship in 1900, died shortly after last midnight from pneumonia, following an illness of but a few days at his residence, 4287 Olive street. He was 68 years old, of recent years Flory has been connected with the Order of Railroad Conductors, of which he was a member, and traveled extensively throughout the country. He was active up until the last illness.

Born near Logansport, Ind., in 1856, Flory removed to St. Louis in 1876, shortly after his marriage to Miss Emma Johnson of Lafayette, Ind., and engaged in the railroad business. He was for years a conductor on the Wabash Railroad, before entering politics. He was elected to the old State Railroad and Warehouse Commission in 1894, for a six-year term, following which he made the unsuccessful race for the governorship. He was for a time secretary of the Purchase Exposition Commission, following the St. Louis World's Fair.

Surviving him are his widow and one daughter—Mrs. C. A. Smith of St. Louis. The funeral will be conducted from an undertaker's establishment at 3421 Olive street, under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity, at 2:30 p. m. Saturday.

He was a member of Tuscan Lodge, the St. Louis Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, and St. Andrew's Commandery. Interment will be in Valhalla Cemetery.

ILLNESS FATAL TO J. V. LINCK

Newspaper Man Was Lieutenant in Army.

NEW YORK, April 2.—James Volney Linck, 46 years old, assistant telegraph editor of the New York Herald-Tribune, and former St. Louis newspaper man, died yesterday morning at the French hospital, following an operation. He had been ill only a short time. The body will be taken to Nashville, Tenn., where Linck was born. Linck had been in newspaper work since he was 17 years old, when he became a reporter on the Democrat at Columbia, Tenn. He was night editor of the St. Louis Republic when war was declared in 1917.

Although totally deaf in one ear, he went to the first officers' training camp and was commissioned a second lieutenant and his deafness was not discovered until after the war. The men in his company, it is said, arranged a system of signals and communicated to him the orders he failed to hear. One time he failed to hear a command of a superior officer, which resulted in the only reprimand he ever received in the army. Linck was sent to France in the fall of 1917. He saw action in major engagements and was promoted to first lieutenant in the field after 14 months' service.

IN CHARGE OF U. S. MUSEUM.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Dr. Alexander Wetmore of North Freedom, Wis., authority on birds and mammals, yesterday was appointed assistant secretary of the Smithsonian Institution. He will be in charge of the United States National Museum, the National Gallery of Art and the National Zoological Park. Dr. C. G. Abbott is the other assistant secretary.

Second Lord of British Navy Dies.

LONDON, April 2.—Vice Admiral Sir Michael Culme Seymour, second sea lord and chief of the naval personnel, died today. He was born Aug. 29, 1867, the son of the third Baronet, Sir M. Culme Seymour. Sir Michael served as a rear admiral in the Battle of Jutland, commanded the Black Sea and Caspian squadrons in 1918 and was Commander in Chief of the North America and West Indies station from 1923 to 1924.

Civil War Veteran Dies.

DANVILLE, Ill., April 2.—Andrew A. Hennings, a veteran of the Civil War and a former resident of St. Louis, is dead at the hospital here after an illness of a week. He was born in Pennsylvania 89 years ago.

War Correspondent in 1898 Dies.

TULARE, Cal., April 2.—W. R. Snow, 52 years old, Police Judge, former editor of the Tulare Advance and Associated Press correspondent in Cuba during the Spanish-American War, died here last night as a result of taking poison which he mistook for medicine. Snow was sent to Cuba by the Associated Press as one of its correspondents in 1898. Later he joined the Cuban forces. Still later he established the first English language newspaper on the Isle of Pines.

Road Seeks to Enter Dallas.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—In order to get entrance to Dallas, Tex., the Fort Worth & Denver City Railway today asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to approve a contract with the Chicago & Rock Island Railroad for use of trackage rights over 35 miles of that line. No new capital investment will be required, the application said, but the Fort Worth line hopes to increase its traffic materially thereby.

MAJ. B. R. DYSART DIES AT MACON, MO.

Was Last Survivor of Convention That Drafted Missouri Constitution.

Special to the Post-Dispatch
MACON, Mo., April 2.—Major Benjamin R. Dysart, last member of the Constitutional Convention of 1875, died here at 11 o'clock last night. He would have been 91 years old the thirtieth of April.

Major Dysart was born in Howard County, Missouri, April 13, 1837. He was a son of John Dysart, member of a well-known pioneer family of Tennessee.

Judge George H. Shields of St. Louis, who died in April, 1924, left Major Dysart with the distinction of being the last survivor of the convention which drafted a code that was used as model by many other states. There were 65 members of the convention. Among many of the more noted members were Joseph Pulitzer, St. Louis; Col. William F. Switzer, Columbia; William Priest, Hannibal; Thomas Shackelford, Fayette; H. C. Brookmeyer and J. O. Broadhead of St. Louis.

After attending the schools in Howard County and McGehee College at College Mound, Maj. Dysart's preparation for his professional career as a lawyer was made at Cumberland University, Tennessee, completing his studies there, he returned to Missouri, going to Bloomington, the old seat of Macon County.

There he formed a partnership with the late George Sharp in 1858. The old building in which their law offices were located is still standing in the almost deserted village of Bloomington. It probably is the oldest structure in the county.

During the Civil War Dysart abandoned his law practice to serve in Gen. Price's Confederate army. He was wounded at the battle of Wilson's Creek.

The marriage of Maj. Dysart to Miss Emma Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Turner of Pike County was March 27, 1866. There were two daughters.

In March, 1891, Dysart became associated with Robert G. Mitchell in the practice of law. This partnership lasted until Mitchell's death, March 6, 1905.

Harry Turner of St. Louis is a brother-in-law of Maj. Dysart and Thomas N. Dysart of St. Louis is a nephew.

SYMPHONY PLEASES JACKSON

Two Mississippi Audiences Enjoy Concerts of St. Louis Musicians.

JACKSON, Miss., April 2.—The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, nearing the close of its tour of the Southeastern states, evoked hearty enthusiasm from two large audiences in Jackson yesterday, and special marks of appreciation were tendered to the conductor, Rudolph Ganz, the soprano soloist, Miss Helen Traubel, Max Steindel, cellist, and Mrs. Pannard, harpist.

For the afternoon concert there were present hundreds of Jackson boys and girls, the local high schools having declared a half holiday. At the evening concert, the seating capacity of the city auditorium was taxed, more than 4000 men and women being present. The St. Louis Symphony orchestra is no stranger to Jackson, whose interest in affairs musical is at high pitch just now because the annual state festival of music, a three-day affair, is to be held in this same auditorium early in May.

New Illinois U. Hospital Opens.

CHICAGO, April 2.—The new University of Illinois Medical School hospital here received its first patients yesterday. The hospital has a library of medical works said to be one of the most extensive collections of the kind in the country. Dr. B. J. Davis, dean of the medical school, is in charge. The hospital will be administered jointly by the University of Illinois and the State Department of Public Welfare. Its three-fold aim is research, education and treatment. Dr. Davis explained.

Heads Pan-American Union.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 2.—Secretary Kellogg was elected chairman of the Governing Board of the Pan-American Union yesterday to fill the unexpired term of Charles Evans Hughes, who relinquished the post when he resigned as secretary of State. Mr. Kellogg, who will hold office as chairman until November, said he looked upon the union as "designed to play a most important part in the development of the highest standards of international action on the American continent."

JESSICA BROWN STILL POPULAR

But as the Countess North-She Sits in Front of Footlights.

Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch and Chicago Daily News
LONDON, April 1.—In a newspaper column devoted to the activities of London society appears a short paragraph recording the fact that among the diners in a certain restaurant the other evening were Lord Northesk and the Countess of Northesk, watching with evident interest the first performance of a miniature revue. It seems hardly a few weeks since the lady, then Jessica Brown, whose husband followed her to Chicago to marry her, appeared in a cabaret at Queen's Hall. The critics went into ecstasies over her dancing and her beauty and for months she was the center of popular attention.

Now she has just returned from Switzerland and the Riviera, a countess, still beautiful, still popular, but prohibited by her social rank from joining her sisters before the footlights. It is said she watched the performance with interest, but wisely.

Lameless Woman Dies of Burns.

By the Post-Dispatch
LINCOLN, Mo., April 2.—Mrs. James R. Fleming, 57 years old, wife of Linn County's leading auctioneer, was burned fatally yesterday when gasoline fumes were ignited while she was cleaning clothing in the basement of her home here. Matches on the floor indicated she had stepped on one, the flash causing the fire. Mrs. Fleming, her clothing aflame, ran into the yard, where she was caught by Capt. Fabian J. Pratt and rolled in a blanket. His hands were burned severely in the futile attempt to save her life.

What Does "Hand-Dipped" Mean To You?

You can recognize hand-dipped chocolates at sight, by their delightful irregularity, just as you know a home-made cake by its crinkly crust and enticing unevenness of its icing, oozing richly down the sides.

But the real hallmark of handmade chocolates is the thickness of the coating. In Sungold Chocolates a full half of the confection consists of coating, made of a delightful and exclusive new blend—crisply toasted coconut and pure rich sweetened chocolate.

Sungold centers are delightful—flavorsome nougats, caramels, butter crisps, marshmallows and fruity creams—variety a-plenty for every taste.

THE MIRROR OF PUBLIC OPINION

A BORAH BLOC.

In the Buffalo Courier.
PRESIDENT COOLIDGE doubtless meets more and more, with every new day of Borah strength in the Senate, the Senator from Idaho not only is sustained upon by the Cleveland convention but is the Republican candidate for President. If the President has been prevented from making Charles E. Warren Attorney-General, Mr. Borah is more than any one else in the Senate responsible. What an outcry there would have been if La Follette had blocked President from naming a member of his Cabinet. The comparative silence of Mr. Borah's part in what has been going on at Washington is tacit recognition at least of the power wielded by the chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee. Inquiry appears to be pertinent as whether there is now to be a Borah Presidential bees have all sorts of reasons for making their buzzing heard.

THAT'S THE SPIRIT.

In the London Express.
WE MUST not look to Europe alone for relief to our finances. Self-reliance was the secret of our success in the past. It will be the secret of our commercial and industrial renaissance. We must fix our eyes on the harassed nations who owe us money, but upon the nations which can be won by our industry and enterprise. Tidewatering is the British trait. Let us resolve to rise to the challenge of Europe. Let us, as of old, rely on our own exertions and not on the aid of our neighbors. We have led the world by paying our debts without counting the cost. Let us lead it also by our determination to succeed even if everybody succumbs.

WOMEN IN SCIENCE.

In the Boston Globe.
WOMAN, in the educational world, is nudging her way forward steadily. The latest item added to the record of this advance comes from New Haven, where it is announced that Miss Elizabeth Gilman, of Andover, Mass., has been appointed research assistant in chemistry at Yale and will be the first woman, thus far, to occupy that position. Miss Gilman is at present a student at Holyoke College, where she has been doing notable work in the department of organic chemistry. Her abilities during the past year have attracted considerable attention. The invitation to Yale is the result, in connection with the appointment, of an interesting note that study of chemistry in the field of chemistry in this country a year or two ago, revealed that but only five per cent of the chemists in the United States are women. Considering the fact that there are more than 15,000 chemists in the 48 states, this appeared rather startling average for the women. There are, however, the women are becoming numerous in this field as well as in many others concerned with science. Europe, of course, women scientists have been prominent and few or no hints because of sex have been thrown to hamper them.

NEGRO SPEAKERS

ASSAIL MILLER

Large Meeting Hears Lawyer Charge Nominee Has Klan Connection.

An unusually large negro audience, which packed Pythian Hall, 2127 Pine boulevard, last night, listened to denunciation of Victor J. Miller, Republican nominee for Mayor, by Homer G. Phillips and George L. Vaughn, negro lawyers, and by Joseph Mitchell, editor of the Argus, a negro weekly. The speaking continued for three hours, and there were frequent demonstrations of approval when the speakers attacked Miller and urged support of William L. Igoe.
The meeting was arranged by Phillips, who caused a notice to be printed in the last issue of the Argus, notifying Miller of the meeting and inviting him to attend and take one-half the time. Miller did not appear.

Charge of Klan Connection.
Phillips' chief charge, which he expressed the desire that Miller might hear and answer, then and there, was that Miller had Klan connections. Miller has repeatedly denied that he is or ever was a member of the Klan, and has offered $1000 to anyone who can prove such a charge. Archbishop Glennon to be the judge.
Carl Dobinsky, a lawyer, who last summer, on the eve of the gubernatorial primary, circulated the anti-Klan paper, "Tolerance," containing a charge that Miller was connected with the Klan, recently issued a statement saying that fortunately inquiry had convinced him he was mistaken.

About Negro Policemen.
Phillips again brought up Miller's assertion, which was a subject of dispute in the primary campaign, that he, as head of the Police Board, put negro policemen in uniform.

"We have learned from Gov.
Hyde that he, and not Mr. Miller, ordered this change made," Phillips said. "Mr. Miller has said that no colored policemen were placed in uniform since he was on the board. I can name six men who have been put in uniform since then," and the speaker recited six names, which several of his hearers declared to be correct.

Attorney Vaughn discussed some points of Miller's record not relating directly to negroes, including the Soltan High School case, and Miller's business dealings in Kentucky, to which Vaughn applied the term, "a slicker's trick."

Editor Pleads for Independence.
Editor Mitchell urged the negroes to show independence and not to let the Republican candidates think that they had the negro vote "in their pockets."

"Put one cross under the elephant on your ballot next Tuesday," Mitchell said, "but put another one beside Mr. Igoe's name." A negro meeting at the West End Hotel, Vandeventer avenue and West Belle place, tomorrow night, will be addressed by Igoe, and by Congressman Hawes of the Eleventh District. Phillips and Vaughn will be among the speakers.

EXPLOSION OF VULCANIZING APPARATUS DAMAGES SHOP

Woman in Upstairs Flat Over Tire Store Knocked Down by Force of Blast.

The explosion of a vulcanizing apparatus at noon yesterday in the tire shop operated by Frank Kuhlman at 2548 North Market street, damaged the shop and vulcanizer to the extent of $500. Kuhlman said he had lighted the gas heater under the vulcanizer and when the pressure gauge registered 40 pounds the explosion occurred. He was at a loss to explain the cause of the explosion since the normal pressure of the machine was 60 pounds, he said.

In an upstairs flat in the same building, Mrs. Benjamin Stone was attending to her household duties when the explosion occurred. She was knocked down and a stove and some dishes were damaged.

clerks, who failed to appear for service, March 12, were notified by letter today to appear before the Board of Election Commissioners and explain their delinquency or face prosecution.

The letters sent out by the board state that unless the judges and clerks in question appear between 9 a. m. and 12 noon tomorrow or Saturday and show cause why they did not appear for service, their names will be certified to the prosecuting attorney for prosecution.
Failure to serve is a misdemeanor punishable by from $500 fine to two years in the penitentiary.

Druggist Shot Twice by Wife.
In the Automobile Garage.

MACON, Ga., April 2.—Grief over a dead baby led to the shooting here last night of Henry Wood druggist by his wife as he worked in his pharmacy. In a statement to police after the shooting, Mrs.
Wood said she was driven from her home Monday night by her husband and returned late night for the clothing and picture of her dead baby. They were gone, she said. She shot her husband twice went to a neighbor's house and telephone police. Wood is not expected to live.

WOMAN IS SAID TO HAVE LIVED IN TRANCE 15 YEARS

Food Is Administered to Patient in South African Hospital Every Two Hours

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
RIETFOONTEIN, South Africa, March 2.—Scientists from England who have heard recently of the case of a woman here who has been in a trance for 15 years may come to Rietfontein to make extensive investigations with the hope of helping the victim. The woman is Miss Anna Wapool of Lichtenburg, aged 35, who became unconscious in 1919 when she was notified of the sudden death of her fiancé.

Not once, according to the attending physicians, since that time has the woman been fully conscious. After 11 years in her own home, under the care of relatives, she was taken to a hospital where attendants administer food and water every two hours.

KILLINGS AROUSE MOSCOW

Polish Mission Guarded Following Slaying of Terrorists at Border.

By the Associated Press.
MOSCOW, April 2.—Demonstrations over the slaying of the two terrorists Baginski and Wieroz-Kiewicz, near the Polish frontier, where they were to have been exchanged for two Poles held by the Soviets, have caused the authorities to post a strong guard over the quarters of the Polish mission here. Mounted troops also are patrolling the streets around the Polish Consulate in Leningrad, not allowing the demonstrators to approach the building. The official news agency, Tass, says the Commissariat of Foreign Affairs has protested to the Polish mission against the alleged concealment of Polish Consul Karchewsky at Minsk of Father Usak, whom the Soviets are seeking to arrest on a serious charge.

Rosta adds that Consul Karchewsky's Exequatur has been annulled, and that the Polish mission has been requested to order his immediate withdrawal.

'FORBES MEN STILL IN BUREAU'

Head of Disabled Veterans Says Campaign Is on to Oust Them.

By the Associated Press.
SEATTLE, April 2.—Frank J. Irwin of New York, national commander of the Disabled Veterans of the World War, said in an address before the Seattle post of the order last night that a campaign is being waged "to clean out a ring in the central office at Washington."

"We do not believe that Col. Forbes alone was responsible for conditions found in the bureau," said Irwin. "Some of the men who served under him are serving under Brigadier-General Frank Hines. The opinion through the East is that these men should go. Conditions in veterans' hospitals have shown marked improvement. There has been some improvement in the bureau but not as much as we would like."

MAYA RUINS ARE FOUND

Discoveries in Vera Cruz Include Monuments, Pyramid and Altar.

By the Associated Press.
NEW ORLEANS, April 2.—Important finds of Maya relics near Puerto, Mexico, in the Mexican State of Vera Cruz, have been made by the Tulane University expedition, in charge of F. B. Blom, a cablegram received here said.

The message, brought from the interior to the coast by an Indian runner, tells that ancient ruins were found at La Venta in the Virgin forest, consisting of eight carved monuments, one pyramid and one altar. This find extends the Maya area 100 miles west of the limit hitherto known, the message states.

'Draped Into Marrying Insane Girl'

By the Associated Press.

TOKERS, N. Y., April 2.—Complaining that his wife is—and was—insane, Samuel M. Goldfin, concert singer, has sued Mr. and Mrs. Michael Finkelstein for $100,000 damages on the ground that they falsely represented their daughter as mentally normal and induced Goldfin to marry her. Finkelstein is retired dairy products merchant and wealthy. Goldfin married Cecilia Finkelstein Oct. 26 last. He alleges that before marriage she had been in a sanatorium for feeble minded at Plainfield, N. J., but that her parents told him she had been on a vacation.

Denies Attacking Girl.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, N. C., April 2.—Joseph Needleman, in a story published in the Washington (N. C.) News, denied he was guilty of the attack upon a young white girl of Martin County, he a punishment for which he was forcibly removed from the Martin County jail early Sunday morning and operated upon by a band of men. The young tobacco salesman of Philadelphia added that he knew the man who performed the operation.

Print This Good News About Joint-Ease Writes Eastern Druggist

"Joint-Ease is selling like hot cakes in my store because it is a wonderful and speedy remedy for all joint troubles. "But why not impress on tens of thousands of suffering people some of the things that dozens of my customers tell me almost daily. "Some say that it knocks out lumbago over night—others assert that for chest colds and sore throat it has no equal, while many insist that there is nothing they ever tried that is so efficient for neuralgia, neuritis and even head colds and nasal catarrh."

Answering the above letter, we, the makers of Joint-Ease, know that what this thriving New Jersey druggist says is true, but we still maintain that Joint-Ease is prepared for stiff, inflamed, painful, swollen joints, whether in ankle, knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, fingers or spine. You'll like to use penetrating Joint-Ease, for with just one minute rubbing it soaks in through the flesh direct to the ailing bone and ligaments—that's why it succeeds—for when Joint-Ease gets in joint misery gets out—and without any waste of time and feeling and congestion disappears. Ask Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., 7th and Washington, Judge & Polch Bros. Stores, or any druggist anywhere.

The cost of Coffee

is only a small part of the cost of the meal

WE ALL know that there has been an advance in the price of Coffee. Like everything else, it costs more now than it used to. But even at that, it costs you comparatively less than most of the other good things on your table.

The price of Coffee today naturally seems high by comparison with the price you used to pay. But compared with the present prices of other staples, Coffee is still cheap. What else can you buy for the same money that will last as long and bring you as much genuine enjoyment and pleasure? Yet Coffee makes the meal!

As a matter of fact, Coffee for home use costs you just about 1½ cents per cup. And this cost is only 1/20 or 1/40 or even 1/50 of the total cost of the average meal. That isn't very much, is it?

ACCIDENT VERDICT IN DEATH OF MAN HIT BY AUTO ON ROAD

Body of Pedestrian Killed on Mac-coutah Highway Still Is Unidentified.

A verdict of "accidental death" was returned by the coroner's jury which held an inquest on the body of a man killed on the Mac-coutah road Tuesday night by a machine driven by Alvin Van Pelt of Dupon. Van Pelt and two men who were in the auto with him testified that the man stepped out into the highway in front of the machine just after two other machines had passed Van Pelt who was going in the opposite direction. The identity of the man has not been established. He had a card on him with the name "Dick Willis, West Frankfort, Ill." written on it but no one at West Frankfort knew a man by that name. The dead man is believed to have been an itinerant peddler. The body will be held at the Gardner Undertaking establishment for a few days in the hope that he may be identified.

MOST HEROIC DOG OF THE

Cincinnati Kennel Club to Present Medal to the Animal So Qualifying.

By the Associated Press. CINCINNATI, O., April 2.—The American dog which in the year between April 15, 1924, and April 15, 1925, performs the most heroic deed of self-sacrifice and devotion to the human race, will be sought and crowned by the Cincinnati Kennel Club in connection with the National Dog Show, which will be held here April 17-19.

The dog so found must himself be exhibited in order that the gold medal significant of the fact may be awarded with proper ceremonies from the stage at Music Hall the evening of April 19.

Any dog in the county of any breed may be entered by his owner, and no dog will be barred on account of lack of pedigree or pure breeding, according to the regulations. There is no entry fee of any description. The dog must be shown at no expense of the owner.

March Taxes Totals $432,000,000.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, April 2.—Treasury receipts from the March tax installment exclusive of special assessments, totaled $432,000,000, or within one-half of 1 per cent of the estimates made by the Treasury actuary when the new tax bill was enacted, months ago. In addition, the Internal Revenue Bureau has received a $2,000,000 payment under an additional assessment against the Grey estate in connection with sale of Ford motor stock in 1919.

NEW HOSPITAL SITE IN CHINA

M. E. Church Buys Ground in City of Kinkiang.

NEW YORK, April 2.—After several years of negotiation, the Methodist Episcopal Church has just secured a new property location for the Water of Life Hospital in the City of Kinkiang, on the Yangtze River, China, according to word received by the Board of Foreign Missions. The new property is on a hilltop and occupies almost four acres. Work will be immediately begun for the mission doctor's residence, and an isolation cottage.

The Rev. Edward C. Perkins, M. D. of Hartford, Conn., is the superintendent of the Water of Life Hospital. He has been a missionary of the Board of Foreign Missions in China since 1910.

CORSIKAN BANDIT-CHIEFS SO POPULAR ARREST IS NOT DARED

Governor Says Punishment of Romanetti Would Cause a Civil War.

PARIS, March 15.—Famous not only because Napoleon Bonaparte was born there, but also on account of her brigands, is the island of Corsica. These brigands are no common thieves. They never attack tourists, possibly because they rob only persons who have lawfully robbed the tourists. The wooded mountains give them excellent shelter and the authorities take no drastic measures against them. Their pillaging is generally due to a spirit of revenge, and since their raids seem to be merely family affairs, the French authorities intervene only half-heartedly and are satisfied if order is kept in the main cities of the island. The most feared bandit leader is a certain Romanetti, who has under his orders about 800 outlaws, well organized and disciplined. The inhabitants of the island call him "the emperor of Corsica." He has several motor cars and travels undisturbed about the island. He has a great deal of influence with the Corsicans, and the authorities not only do not bother him, but seek his support during election periods. The Governor of the island was asked by the Paris authorities to pursue Romanetti, but replied that the outlaw was as popular with the people of Corsica that it would take many months to capture him and that to attempt to punish him would cause civil war.

Insular Agreement Is Signed.

erignty over the Island of Las Palmas, located between the Philippines and the Dutch East Indies, will be submitted to arbitration, were formally signed yesterday at the State Department.

He has a great deal of influence with the Corsicans, and the authorities not only do not bother him, but seek his support during election periods. The Governor of the island was asked by the Paris authorities to pursue Romanetti, but replied that the outlaw was as popular with the people of Corsica that it would take many months to capture him and that to attempt to punish him would cause civil war.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Articles of agreement between the United States and the Netherlands under which the question of soverignty over the Island of Las Palmas, located between the Philippines and the Dutch East Indies, will be submitted to arbitration, were formally signed yesterday at the State Department.

Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, March 15.—Famous not only because Napoleon Bonaparte was born there, but also on account of her brigands, is the island of Corsica. These brigands are no common thieves. They never attack tourists, possibly because they rob only persons who have lawfully robbed the tourists. The wooded mountains give them excellent shelter and the authorities take no drastic measures against them. Their pillaging is generally due to a spirit of revenge, and since their raids seem to be merely family affairs, the French authorities intervene only half-heartedly and are satisfied if order is kept in the main cities of the island. The most feared bandit leader is a certain Romanetti, who has under his orders about 800 outlaws, well organized and disciplined. The inhabitants of the island call him "the emperor of Corsica." He has several motor cars and travels undisturbed about the island. He has a great deal of influence with the Corsicans, and the authorities not only do not bother him, but seek his support during election periods. The Governor of the island was asked by the Paris authorities to pursue Romanetti, but replied that the outlaw was as popular with the people of Corsica that it would take many months to capture him and that to attempt to punish him would cause civil war.

Don't Let High Blood Pressure
Shorten Your Life

How to Stop It—Read This.

It may surprise you to know high blood pressure is so serious that insurance companies refuse to issue policies to those who have it. All because it shortens life.

High blood pressure gives little warning and until certain symptoms take hold, you do not know it. They are head pains, flushed face, hot flashes, dizzy spells, shortness of breath, sleeplessness and nervousness.

Only a purely vegetable medicine like Norma that drives out the waste matter which clogs the system and forces the heart to do extra work can reduce high blood pressure. Often one bottle of Norma will bring reduction enough to stop the symptoms which distress and worry you.

Norma is a physician's prescription. It worked so wonderfully in his personal practice that it has now been placed in drug stores so that people everywhere can obtain it. Check the uncertainty of high blood pressure by reducing it with Norma. For sale by Wolff Wilson, Judge & Delph Drug Stores, Enderle Drug Co. and Johnson Bros. Drug Co.

The New Cunarders

AURANIA ASCANIA ALANIA

These palatial liners, another Cunard achievement, have been added to the famous Cunard Canadian fleet which brings the pleasures of "travel de luxe" within the reach of all.

Like the Ausonia and Antonia, they are "Cabin Ships," carrying only Cabin and Third Class passengers.

Among the advanced conveniences offered are delightful private suites, beautiful bedrooms, and an unusually large number of two-berth staterooms.

Their public rooms embrace a Venetian Palace Smoking room, one of the most unique and charming of the kind afloat, a Long Gallery in fascinating design of oak panelling, a delightful Winter Garden, beautifully paneled in figured fiddle-back oak, a Peter Pan Nursery for the children, Gymnasium located on the boat deck, Lounges, Writing rooms, library, magnificent Drawing room, perfected systems of heating and ventilation under the control of passengers, and every other modern equipment conducive to comfortable and pleasant ocean travel.

Add to the above features, the enjoyment and educational interest of the St. Lawrence River trip and it is easy to appreciate that a voyage via the Cunard Canadian Route is a perfect pleasure cruise.

Ask your local steamship agent for booklets, and for information about the St. Lawrence Route, or apply to—

DRY ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES UNDER ONE DIRECTION

Reorganization of Bureau Under Treasury Department Made With Advent of New Assistant.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Official duties assigned to the several Treasury executives were shifted about considerably with the advent of Lincoln C. Andrews of New York as an assistant secretary, succeeding Elliot Wadsworth, resigning.

All agencies in the Treasury having to do wholly or in part with prohibition enforcement, including the prohibition unit, the Coast Guard and the customs service, were concentrated under the jurisdiction of Andrews. For the first time, the office of Prohibition Commissioner was placed under control of one Assistant Secretary, while the Bureau of Internal Revenue, of which it is a part, was given to another official.

Acting Secretary Winston, the Undersecretary with Assistant Secretary Dewey, now has full charge of fiscal operations for the Government. Through the reorganization, Winston becomes secretary of the American Debt Commission and will handle all foreign debt matters, while Dewey is to have control of railroad loans and jurisdiction over the Comptroller of the Currency, the United States Treasurer, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and other agencies having to do with the Federal currency.

Winston's duties will include the finding of ways to finance the Government supervision of the Budget Bureau, the Farm Loan Board and the Public Debt Commission.

Through the concentration of all prohibition enforcement work under one head, the Treasury's hope is that conditions may be corrected where remedial changes are necessary.

MEDICAL SOCIETY ADVOCATES REAPPOINTMENT OF STARKLOFF

Passes Resolution Stating His Efficiency Has Equalled That of Any Health Head in U. S. A resolution recommending the reappointment of Dr. Max C. Starkloff as Health Commissioner by the next Mayor of St. Louis has been adopted by the St. Louis Medical Society.

The resolution states that Dr. Starkloff has been Health Commissioner for 20 years, that "his service has been equal in efficiency, perspective and untiring energy to that of any health officer in the country, and that he has the whole confidence and respect of the medical profession as well as the laity."

The recommendation, it is stated, is not political but a matter of public health.

VANDALS WRECK PENTECOSTAL MISSION AT NEW ATHENS

Sheriff Schnipper and Deputy Sheriff Ahrens of Belleville were called to New Athens yesterday to investigate the wrecking of the Pentecostal mission by vandals.

Men in three automobiles visited the meeting place, shattered the windows, wrecked the organ, smashed benches and tore up all but one Bible. Several of the benches were dumped into the Ohio River. The officials were unable to find a clue as to the identity of any of the vandals.

School Patrons to Hear Candidates.

Candidates for the Board of Education have been invited to address a mass meeting to be held at 8 p. m. today at Central Baptist Church, 2832 Washington boulevard, under the auspices of the Central School Patrons' Association. The association will make its endorsement following this meeting. The Rev. Noah Williams, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church, will preside.

The list of its guests reads like an old-time roll of honor

"ALL the celebrated men of the country" says an old history book, "made the Maxwell House their Nashville headquarters." Years ago the fame of this fine old hotel and of its delicious food spread not only through the South, but also throughout the whole country. In their homes, the distinguished guests of the old Maxwell House remembered the coffee served there—a special blend, so rich and mellow that they took steps to secure it for their own tables. Today this same blend of fine coffees, prepared and roasted in just the same way, is supplied to them in sealed tins. Your own family can have the rare flavor and aroma that the guests of the old Maxwell House liked so well. Ask your grocer today for one of the blue tins of Maxwell House Coffee.

When you boil beans
the flavor goes into the water.

When you bake beans the flavor stays in the beans.

Heinz Beans are oven-baked. The label

SCHOOL BOARD COMMITTEE

DENIES IT IS POLITICAL BODY

Chairman Says Purpose Is to Aid in Selecting Persons Who Will Make Best Members.

Emphatic denial that the Citizens' School Board Committee, comprising 3000 members, is political in any sense was contained in a statement issued yesterday by Samuel R. McPherson, chairman of the organization, and Mrs. Chas.
P. Bettman, chairman of the Organization Committee. The purpose of the body, it is declared, is to aid in electing five candidates, regardless of politics, who will make the best School Board members. Of the candidates recommended, three are Republicans and two are Democrats.

"The Citizens' Committee is not a group of 'mushroom politicians' as was charged recently in a public gathering by one who was either not informed or purposely twisted the facts," the statement said.

"The 3000 members of the committee were chosen from among all representative groups and from every section of the city, and many of them were volunteers who were interested in the public schools and the cause of education."

"It is not a political movement in any sense whatever. It is representative of all parties and its purpose is wholly nonpartisan, to aid in electing five candidates, regardless of politics, who will make the best School Board members."

FRANCE DENIES CESSION OF ALEXANDRIA TO TURKEY

Reports That Ottoman Government Has Gained Control of Baghdad Railway Infounded.

Copyright, 1925, by The Press and Publishing Establishment Co. (New York World and Post-Dispatch).

PARIS, April 2.—Reports reaching here today from Constantinople that Turkey had gained absolute control of the Baghdad railroad, through cession of the important port of Alexandria to the Ottoman Government by France, brought a prompt denial from the Quai d'Orsay. The reports are unfounded, it was said.

Emphasis was added to the denial by a statement that Henri Franklin Bouillon, reported to have arranged the cession of Alexandria, Aleppo and Antioch and understood to be in Angora until the arrival of Ambassador Sarraut, has no official mission from France.
Authorities of the Government pointed out that under mandate France has no right to make territorial modifications of Syria.

Such a cession would be gravely important to Great Britain, since it would give Turkey a valuable line of access to Mosul. Already the Turks, with French authorization, have used the railroad to transport about 70,000 troops, ostensibly mobilized against the insurgent Kurds.

COMMONS VOTES TO RETAIN DEATH PENALTY IN ARMY

Labor Party Unsuccessfully Seeks to Abolish It, but Loses, 320 to 156.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, April 2.—The British Labor party fought unsuccessfully in the House of Commons last night to abolish the death penalty in the British army, an amendment introduced by E. Thurtle, labor member from Shoreditch, to the annual army bill being rejected by 320 votes to 156.

Thurtle argued that not one Australian soldier was executed during the world war because the Australian Government would not allow it. He contended that nobody would say that the fighting of the Australians was inferior to that of Canadians, British, Irish or New Zealanders, because they did not have the fear of the death penalty.

Capt. R. Gee Bosworth, speaking against the proposed amendment, said that only 287 officers and men were executed during the entire war. He and other members testified to innumerable cases where officers trying offenders either minimized the charges or overruled death sentences. Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, War Secretary, said that only 11 per cent of the death sentences passed during the war were allowed to stand. The death penalty, he said, was intended less as punishment than as a deterrent to others.

CASHES COUPONS BEFORE OWNING THEM, SAVES $175

Word From Bank Reaches Druggist Before Owner Returns for Money and Letter Is Arrested.
Ten $30 coupons for $200 sounded good to Sam Goffstein, druggist at Jefferson and Pine streets. "I've only got $25 now," he said, "but if you'll come back tonight I'll give you the rest."

That satisfied the owner, George Randol, a negro. Yesterday afternoon Goffstein felt the urge to look over the coupons. They were obviously genuine, bearing the number of real estate bond No. 323 of the Christopher Simpson Iron Works.
He might as well cash them immediately. A clerk took them to the Mississippi Valley Trust Co. and returned with $200.

Goffstein put aside $175 pending hearing from Randol. But he heard from the bank first. The bond had been canceled. The coupons were worthless. Randol came in for his $175 and was arrested. He explained to detectives who were waiting for him that he only took a chance on the uncanceled coupons of a canceled sample bond because his wife was ill and he was broke. He is 29 and resides at 1212 Cook avenue.

The better the FRUIT— the better the BREAKFAST

For fruit must do more than merely introduce the breakfast. It must balance the highly-concentrated foods which make up the usual breakfast menu—add to body-efficiency and "pickup"—help to keep food moving through the alimentary canal.

That's why it is so important to select a fruit that provides plenty of cellulose or natural fruit tissue in addition to the mineral salts, sugars and vitamins.
That's why so many eminent dieticians and doctors make Prunes their first choice for breakfast.

And when you buy Prunes, be sure you get the best.

Mike Ballerino Beats Sullivan For Junior Title

Dispute Settled, Millers to Play Boston Sunday

Victor is Floored in First Round, but Finishes Very Strong.

Hub City Eleven Believed to Be Strongest Combination in Country.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
PHILADELPHIA, April 2.—Mike Ballerino won decisively over Ed Sullivan last night in the Army A. A. ring and wrestled the junior lightweight title from the Brooklyn fighter. Ballerino won practically every round and gave Sullivan a terrific body beating. Each weighed in at 129½ pounds.

Sullivan dropped Ballerino with a right hook to the chin, but Mike was right up and had an edge on round. Ballerino continued the aggressor in the second and landed heavily to the body. Sullivan was driven back with a mean right to the jaw and Mike was quite a lead.

Ballerino's rushing tactics proved too much for the champion in the fourth, fifth and sixth rounds. Sullivan came strong in the seventh and seemed to have Ballerino going, but Mike staged a fierce comeback. Ballerino was again the aggressor and took the eighth. The last two rounds also went to Ballerino.

Harry Gordon made short work of Al Markie, the Philadelphia bantam, in the opening round, which was scheduled for 10 rounds, but only lasted a few seconds. A right by Gordon and a heavy right to the head sent Markie through the ropes and he was too badly injured to continue.

The second bout was also a short one, with Archie Walker stopping Jack Torrey in the second. Joe Nelson was the victor over Emanuel Flores, a game Philippine fighter. Flores suffered a bad cut over his left eye in the seventh and when it was impossible to stitch the flow of blood the referee called a halt in the eighth.

THIRD ROUND GAMES
TODAY IN HIGH SCHOOL TITLE BASKET TOURNEY
The Associated Press.
CHICAGO, April 2.—Competitive has narrowed down to 42 entrants in the national interscholastic basketball tournament of the University of Chicago went into the third round today.

The Far West had been eliminated and the team was represented by only two teams, Conn. and Torrington, Conn., while the North and South appeared likely to continue some representatives of the finals.

One of the South's strongest contenders, Walter Miller, a cross country post, will play today. Today's games: 10 a. m., Torrington, Conn., vs. Trania, La.; 11 a. m., Wheeler, Miss., vs. Huntington, W. Va.; 1 p. m., Yorkton, S. D., vs. Wichita, Kan.; 3 p. m., Jaramila, Wyo., vs. Durham, N. ## Capt. Hal Shows Derby Class in Training Trial

Gallops Mile in 1:43 4-5 at Louisville Without Visible Effort.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 2.—Captain Hal, Derby candidate, turned in one of the most impressive trials of the spring racing season. He appeared to be ready to run as soon as he came upon the track, and he showed no sign of fatigue at the end of the mile. He galloped out the mile in 1:43 4-5, the first quarter in 1:15 3-5 and galloped out the mile in 1:43 4-5. He pulled up scarcely blowing.

Neither he nor the trainer, who was with him, showed any sign of fatigue. He galloped out the mile in 1:43 4-5, the first quarter in 1:15 3-5 and galloped out the mile in 1:43 4-5. He pulled up scarcely blowing.

Abstract and Anathorator, two Derby colts, were the racing show of the afternoon, and they showed a slow mile, when they negotiated the distance together in 1:47 3-5, the first three quarters in 1:20.

Imported Colt Training Well
Kit Kat, an imported colt owned by James W. Corrigan, in the same stable, has begun to show that he is rounding into racing form when he stepped three quarters of a mile in 1:18, the first half in 1:00.

Brave Bob, which finished third in the Louisiana Derby, breezed a mile in 1:12, the first half in 1:00. He was the only colt in the field to show such a good mile.

Pol Rogers and Evelyn, jockeys of the Kentucky Derby, were the only two in the field to show such a good mile. They were the only two in the field to show such a good mile.

More Big Business.
In four years, official New York reports disclose, boxing receipts in the Empire State totaled $18,000,000, of which the State's share was $921,670.94.

The boxers have received, it is estimated, over $10,000,000 and the promoters about $7,000,000.

How It Happened.
It all came about yesterday, when the Tunney-Gibbons match was closed. Tom Dempsey was the victor.

Chilhowee Poisoned Before $50,000 Race Is San Diego Report
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
SAN DIEGO, April 2.—Ernie and Harry Hart and Trainer Dick Watts of the Chilhowee stables were called before the Jockey Club stewards yesterday to explain the circumstances surrounding the failure of the great 4-year-old Chilhowee to run his race in the Coddard Handicap, in which he was a heavily played favorite at Tia Juana last Sunday.

While Tunney is American light heavyweight champion, that title will not be at stake, inasmuch as the articles call for the men to come in at catch weights. This means that both will scale well over the light heavyweight limit, which is 175 pounds.

While the date for the fight has been set for June 12, this is subject to the approval of the Boxing Commission.

According to unofficial reports, the commission based its disapproval on the grounds that it wouldn't be right to have Gibbons, weighing about 185 pounds, meet the giant negro, who will scale 220.

ILLINOIS TEACHERS MEET IN ST. LOUIS

2200 Registered for Two-Day Convention of Southwestern Division.

The tenth annual meeting of the Southwestern Division of the Illinois State Teachers' Association, comprising 13 counties, will be held today and tomorrow at East St. Louis. Miss Estelle Bean, chairman of registration, reports that 2200 registered in advance.

The general sessions of the meeting will be held in Almad Temple and the sectional ones in that building and the East St. Louis High School.

The program will open at 7:30 tonight, with an address upon "Literature and Progress" by Dr. Stephen Leacock of McGill University, and a concert by H. Reinald Werrenrath.

At 9 a. m. there will be an address by William McAndrew, superintendent of Chicago schools, and a musical program including the oratorio "Elijah," sung by a chorus of high-school pupils.

Stratton D. Brooks, president of the University of Missouri, will speak tomorrow evening and will also address the East St. Louis Grade Teachers' Fellowship at 6 p. m., in the Community House.

ADMITTS SOVIET WAR AGAINST PRIVATE TRADE HURTS RUSSIA

Official Recommends Granting of Favorable Concessions to Capital With Equal Rights.

By the Associated Press.

MOSCOW, April 2.—Ivan Smilga, vice chairman of the State Planning Commission, admitted at a conference of soviet trade officials yesterday that the internal trade policy pursued by the Government had failed—this because of last year's campaign against private trade. He pledged the Government to drastic reforms in this direction.

To effect monetary reform, the Government, he said, was obliged last year to wage war on private capital as the sole means of regulating the soviet market, and he added:

"Unfortunately, the provincial authorities misunderstood the central Government's policy, and, instead of enforcing the new policy by means of economic action, they supplied fiscal and administrative methods which resulted in substantial abolition of private trade. The present economic situation shows clearly that state and co-operative trading is unable to effect a junction between town and village without the participation of private capital in the general trade of the country."

Smilga declared that in the interest of the country the Government was again ready to make a serious change in its internal trade policy, and he had recommended the granting of favorable concessions to private traders. Private capitalists would be given the same rights by the Government as state trusts and co-operative societies.

BRONZE CASKET FROM RUSSIA FOR DR. SUN IS REJECTED

His Last Wish, That He Be Buried "Like Friend Lenin," Goes Unfulfilled.

By the Associated Press.

PEKIN, April 2.—The last wish of the late Dr. Sun Yat Sen, first President of the Chinese republic, that he be buried in a "bronze crystal coffin, like my friend Lenin," went unfulfilled today. The bronze casket long awaited from Moscow arrived and proved to be a shoddy affair, unsuitable, and was rejected.

Tonight Dr. Sun's body lies in the western hills of Peking, nine miles from the city in Celestial Piyuansu Temple. It will be removed later to Nanking, the city in which Dr. Sun first ruled as President.

The funeral ceremony today was a throw-back to Manchu manners and customs.

At Central Park, where the body of the progressive Chinese leader has been laid out since his death, the services began. A touch of Occidental ways was seen in the glass casket in which Dr. Sun was encased, while countless Chinese admirers gazed upon his face.

Thousands of scrolls extolling Dr. Sun's virtues were hung from the walls of the mortuary chamber and adjoining temporary structures which also housed thousands of artificial wreaths and emblems.

HELIUM GAS FOUND IN ARIZONA

Government Chemist Reports Discovery in New Well.

By the Associated Press.

HOLDBROOK, Ariz., April 2.—S. C. Lind, chief chemist of the United States Bureau of Mines, has notified the officers of the Great Basin Oil Co., now drilling a test well here, known as the Taylor-Fuller well No. 1, that the large quantities of gas now flowing from the well contain helium in sufficient quantity to justify plans for conserving it.

The announcement came after a visit to the well by an expert from the Bureau of Mines. According to Bureau of Mines officials, the supply of helium for use in dirigibles is limited and the present supply obtained for the Shenandoah and Los Angeles is produced in Texas.

MEDITATIONS —OF A— MARRIED WOMAN By HELEN ROWLAND

MAN—AND SPRING MAGIC.

THIS is the magic time of year, when—
If the clouds in the sky remind a man of the way the hair fluffs around a pretty girl's face, and the scent in the breeze reminds him of hyacinths and black narcissus, he's a lover.

But, if the clouds remind him that the lawn needs watering and the breeze reminds him that he forgot to fix the shutter on the gable window, he's a husband.

If the street jonquils remind him to send HER a box of violets, and the street organs start him humming "Love Nest," he's a lover.

But, if the jonquils remind him that he was going to buy some garden seed and the organ reminds him that he must "fix that squeak in the old car," he's a husband.

If the confectioner's window inspires him to go and get a box of her favorite chocolates, and a jeweler's window makes him stop and meditate speculatively on the price of diamonds, he's a lover.

But, if the confectioner's window reminds him that he was told to bring home some buns for dinner, and a jeweler's display makes him wonder cynically where they FIND the "fall-guys" to pay for such things, he's a husband.

If the ripple of the fountain in the park makes him think of lost springs and moonlight on the water, and a Jew's display makes him think of the fountain reminds him that he forgot to fix the faucet in the bathroom, he's a husband.

If a window full of pink feminine frills makes his eye brighten and hold his furtive glance for a moment, and the sight of a pretty pair of ankles will take him a block out of his way, he's a bachelor.

But if the window full of pink frills reminds him merely that his wife's charge accounts are overdue, and a pair of pretty ankles arouses only mild speculations, he's a married man.

If a provocative glance under a saucy hat will make him forget what he started out to do, he's a free soul.

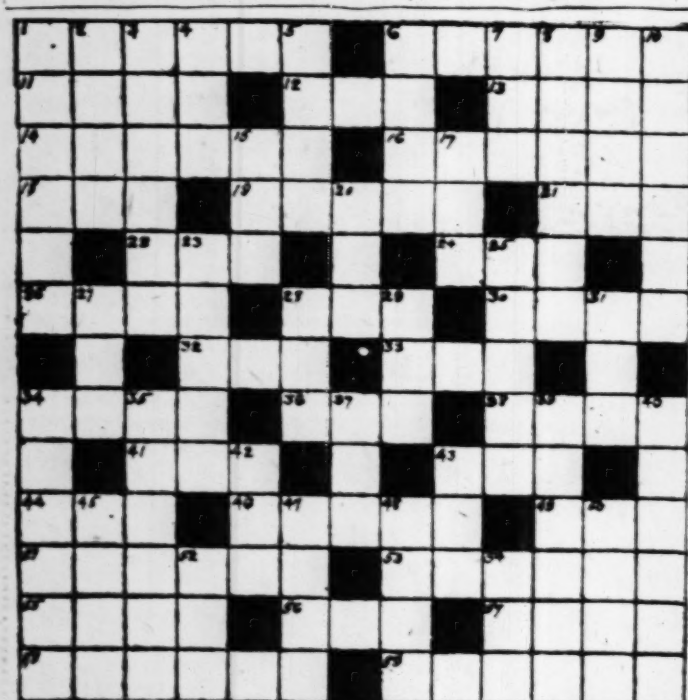

But, if a provocative glance arouses his vanity, makes him feel sorry for himself, and at the same time makes him rejoice that his wife was nowhere around to see it, he is safely tied-to-the-mast.

If an April shower makes him think of June roses, and the salmon in the butcher's case reminds him of trout streams and fishing tackle, he's a single-footer.

But, if a shower merely reminds him that his wife "TOLD" him to take his umbrella, and the salmon merely reminds him that this is Friday and he may expect fish for dinner—

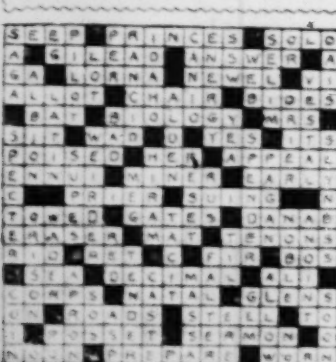

Well, then—ah—then—he is merely what is LEFT of a bachelor, after the nerve has been extracted, and the imagination cocainized—A HUSBAND!

SOLUTION OF YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

CROSS-WORD PUZZLE.

Each word reads from left to right, horizontal, or downward, vertically, according to position. Lettered in correctly, words that cross will interlock.

Each number in the white squares also refers to a definition in the accompanying table.

Each definition suggests a word possessing the exact number of letters to fit the white space allotted to it.

Each white space is to receive one letter only. Words start only in numbered squares.

Prohibitions

DRAWN BY POPINI

THERE'S nothing new under the sun! Not even prohibition! For prohibitions started way back in the Garden of Eden. Weren't Adam and Eve forbidden to eat the apple? But they did—and see what happened! When you were little and forbidden to eat the apples from Farmer Jones' tree and you did it anyhow, and the dog chased you and perhaps caught your dress or coat and tore it, remember what happened when you got home?

And then, when Mother caught you playing with that Brown boy from up the street, didn't she tell you that you mustn't? And didn't you get spanked for disobedience? Always, ever, all through life, there are prohibitions, but the hardest one is when you beg for a kiss—and are refused.

But never mind, that can't last always, and that's ONE prohibition that you are quite sure can't and won't last long. Enough "nos" always mean "yes"—especially when the girl of girls says it.—POPINI.

Beat egg yolks until lemon colored and thick. Add sugar and continue beating. Add flour mixed and sifted with baking powder and salt, hot water and last the whites of the eggs beaten stiff. Bake in a long pan.

Cover with the following icing: One egg white (unbeaten), 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 3 tablespoons cold water.

Place all ingredients in top of a double boiler. Place over boiling water and beat with Dover beater for seven minutes. Take from fire and add vanilla and spread on cake.

SALMON BOX.

Line a buttered bread pan with freshly steamed rice. Fill the center with cold boiled salmon flaked and seasoned with salt, pepper and a sprinkling of nutmeg. Cover with rice, steam one hour, serve on hot platter surrounded with egg sauce.

Made as follows: One-third cup butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 1/2 cups hot water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, Mix as regular drawn butter, add flour with seasonings, and pouring on gradually hot water. Boil five minutes, add remaining butter in small pieces, beaten yolks of two eggs and 1 teaspoon lemon juice.

Methods of Keeping Your Hair in a Beauty Curl

By LUCREZIA BORI
The Famous Spanish Prima Donna

LUCREZIA BORI

ALMOST all women look better when their hair is kept curled, or at least slightly wavy.

There are, of course, types who are beautiful with straight hair brought simply back at the sides of their head and caught in a low or a high knot at the back. These women would be foolish to insist on curling their hair, when they look better with it straight.

But it is not to women who fall in the latter class that I want to give advice on keeping the hair in a beauty curl. It is to those who have fluffy or semi-fluffy hair, and who have to impart some semblance of curl to their hair if they are to look well at all.

Now most women who have straight hair treat themselves to a marcel after they have had their hair washed. If you do this, your aim should be to keep your hair wavy until the next shampoo, without having to get another marcel.

As a word of advice, I think most women look better when their hair has a loose-wave, rather irregular appearance, than when every wave is evenly spaced from the other, with not a single hair deviating from the set order.

If you feel this way about your own hair, you will realize that it is not necessary to keep it impeccably waved at all times, but that a semblance of soft fluffiness will suffice.

Have you ever tried water-wave combs? This treatment is most effective for the woman whose hair has at least a slight inclination to be naturally wavy.

The combs may either be thrust in along the line of a wave or indentation and left there to impress the wave, or you may stick the comb in, catch up loops of your hair, and then thrust the teeth of the comb out again.

Here is an excellent way to preserve the wave until you have time for another shampoo and a real wave. Especially if you have bobbed hair which owns a slight wave.

Dampen your hair slightly, not too much.

Now take a comb and impress the waves where you want them to be.

Next, stick water-wave combs in just where you want the waves to be.

Place a hair net over your hair, or tie an old veil over it, and leave it there until you are ready to go out. From half an hour to an hour should be about right for good results.

This treatment may be tried for bobbed or long hair, either. If your bobbed hair needs cutting and you have not had time for it, the waving will serve to make it appear materially shorter and enable you to go for a longer time without a cutting.

Train your hair into wavy habits. Sometimes the thrusting in of an invisible hairpin will do much to preserve a wave in all its beauty. Learn these little tricks to preserve the beauty of your hair.

A bill now before the Newfoundland Legislature provides the granting of suffrage to women of 25 years and over.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

So They Know Their Own.

Children's rubbers should have a piece of adhesive tape pasted in the heels upon which is written the name of the owner. Then they are not so apt to lose or exchange them.

The Amateur Carpenter.

If you are not much in the line of a carpenter and you must drive a nail in an awkward place, press the tack or nail through a strip of stiff paper and hold the paper instead of the nail.

Electric Cords.

Keep the cords on your vacuum cleaner, electric iron, grille, etc., free from kinks, which wear upon the insulation and finally result in breaking. Should you notice any worn place in the cords, wrap them with bicycle tape and they will be as good as new.

Coffee Making.

If you can possibly afford it, buy a percolator. It means good coffee. A cheaper grade of coffee may be used with really splendid results if the coffee is percolated and not allowed to boil in with the water. Have the coffee ground finely for the percolator; it yields a better flavor.

Sauce Tartare

Into a cupful of mayonnaise, stir the juice of half a lemon, two tablespoons chow-chow or any kind of mixed sour pickles, a little onion juice, or a teaspoonful of minced chives, and a teaspoonful of minced parsley.

:: The Woman of It

By MARGUERITE MOOERS MARSHALL

MAXIMS OF A MODERN MAID

THE only drawbacks to being in love with your own life are that (1) he is likely to be bored by it; (2) nobody else is; (3) you worry so much about his health, comfort and happiness that you don't get much satisfaction yourself.

One of the times when a woman never knows what to say is when a man finishes (for the time being) telling her about the girls who have fallen for him. At least, she may KNOW what to say, but she never dares SAY it!

While the male of the species calls a red, raw piece of beef—or a black, oily piece of machinery—"beautiful," and while the female feels that the adjective should be reserved for sunsets, poetry, hats and herself, the sexes never will really understand each other.

Women may not love their enemies, but they frequently are a whole lot sweeter to them than to their friends.

When a man admits that he is afraid of women he appears gentler instincts, but when he asserts that no women in the world put anything over on him—he appeals to their sporting instincts.

Sometimes a cat says "Miao! Miao!" And sometimes she I had quite a chat with Marie yesterday. You see, there were men around.

Tale evidently agrees with Shakespeare's Parolles—"A married is a man that's married."

UNDER LIFE TERM FOR KEHLRI KILLING

Victim of Second Crime Was Husband of His Ex-wife, Dairymaid, Widow of Kehlri.

Emil Fricker, one-time owner of the Highland dairy farm, was found guilty today of the murder of John Nungesser, husband of his erstwhile dairy maid, and sentenced to death on the gallows. The verdict followed Fricker's third trial for murder within months and the second trial for death of Nungesser, young farmer who was shot down on the farm near his home Sept. 15 last. November Fricker was sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder, in 1926, of Robert Kehlri, farm hand and first husband of a woman who is now Nungesser's widow. If the death sentence carried out, Fricker will become a sufferer the penalty in Missouri in the last 32 years. The first trial for Nungesser's death, which was held in February in a jury deadlock after more than two days of hearing, eight members held guilty, death penalty and four, life imprisonment. Although the jury reached a verdict shortly before last night, after nine hours of deliberation, no intention as to the penalty was made until the body assembled in court at 9 a. m. today. Fricker, who was present, had the verdict with stoic indifference. No change of expression was visible on his face and he calmly sat after the reading had been completed. When asked for a statement, his only answer was "I'll do what I have to do to my lawyer."

Two Witnesses Confessed. As in Fricker's former trial, Nungesser's murder, the star witnesses for the State were Minnie Nungesser, widow of slain man, Eldo Wernie, Fricker's son-in-law, and Jacob Landert, farm hand. Both Wernie and Landert, as has been told, are up for life sentence for Nungesser's death upon their pleas of guilty following their confessions. They assassinated the young farmer at Fricker's instigation. It said Fricker had plotted neighbor's death for more than a year so that he could regain a lost share of the farm. He was enamored, and repeatedly urged them to commit the crime, offering "money and life insurance."

Widow Reiterates Her Story. Mrs. Nungesser, mother of small children and twice married widow at the hands of her former employer, was the figure, however, in which most popular interest centered. Although the attendance this trial was smaller than before, a large crowd thronged the courtroom Wednesday when she was on the stand. Her story was virtually the same she had told before—a story of how she had entered Fricker's employ at the age of 15 and some 12 years more had been under his domination, compelled to yield to his advances. After second marriage, she said, he had meant to kill her husband, once, upon her visit to the place, he had wages, he held her a prisoner for two days. Frequently during the proceedings she wept when details of her husband's murder were viewed. Wernie and Landert, on stand, told of Fricker's attempts to induce them to assassinate and of his ultimate confession.

New Records for Chicago Killings. CHICAGO, April 2.—Killing Chicago during the first 10 months of 1928 set a record for the city, with more murders in March than in any other month in its history, police reports. During the first quarter there were 48 murders, 32 of which were justifiable homicides and 16 "justifiable" deaths in motor accidents. Classification of the "justifiable" deaths is based on Crooner's verdict.

THE REVUE.

SEE where Spencer's coming here. And on the hustings will appear. To fill the dear old public's ear. While Miller he is praising. We claim it is a dirty trick. For anyone to play on Vic. And why upon him they should pick. Is certainly amazing.

I see the "life-long" this and that. Republican or Democrat. Into the ring has chucked his hat. To cut his funny capers. It's only that old army game. Whereby he'll grab a little fame. For, well he knows he'll see his name In all the daily papers.

Our justly famous Baby Doll. Is not averse to playing ball. But, if they push him to the wall. He'll quit the pastime—maybe. We hope for everybody's sake. That everything will soon be Jake. For, it would be a sad mistake To underrate the Baby.

Our legislators seem to be. At loggerheads or up a tree; It seems that they cannot agree On needed legislation. The rural and the city chaps. Between the acts are taking naps. With now and then a game of craps To rouse their animation.

BURIED TREASURE. A bottle of 30-year-old whiskey was found in an excavation near Springfield, Mo. A kind of a hip-pocket mine, as it were.

April 10 will be Arbor day in Missouri. Say it with grapes.

"592 Cases of Beer Dumped Into River."

Come on in, the water's fine!

See where the Republicans expect to carry Germany in the next election. They'll be carrying Ireland next.

The Squeeze Play. President Coolidge says the secret of wholesale handshaking is to beat the other fellow to the squeeze. Indicating that Cal has been hobnobbing with Walter Johnson. Leave it to Cal. Before he is through he will have baby-kissing reduced to an exact science. "Man 60 Years Old Breaks Arm Playing Marbles." Boys will be boys! If the old gent could break an arm playing marbles we shudder to think what would happen to him in a bustling game of checkers.
